Californian Puts Scarlet Letter of Shame on Republican Organization in Hot Statement.

SENATOR BELABORS
LETHARGIC PUBLIC

His Voice To Sound as Rallying Call to Voters To Oust Political Peddlers, He Says.

Washington, April 10.—Senator Hiram Johnson, California, a candidate for the republican presidential nomination, declared tonight in a formal statement that he is not quitting what he is "attempting to do politically." That he defined as an effort to rid the republican party of "a corrupt and reactionary control."

There was no specific mention of his candidacy in his statement, but there was any reference to persistent reports that he would at least curtail his activities in the remaining states that are to select delegates to the republican national convention at Cleveland.

Many Conferences. Senator Johnson has conferred with a number of advisers here. While no formal announcement has been made, it is known that some of them, at least, have advised him to abandon the contest for the nomination.

In a public statement tonight, the senator declares that the "unholy alliance between crooked business men and crooked politics" which dominates the republican party must be smashed and the party "revitalized and regenerated."

"In my humble way I have been trying to do just this," he declared, "and I shall continue trying to do it. I am neither discouraged nor despairing. The fight goes on until it shall be won."

Senator Johnson's statement is as follows:

Text of Statement. "I am not quitting what I am attempting to do politically. I began this contest from within the republican party to rid it of corrupt and reactionary control, and since I commenced, the necessity for such an effort, in some fashion, by some one, has been demonstrated. The revelations of corruption in high places, the silence of those who should speak for the people, the apologies for wrongdoing, the defense by spokesmen of the administration for oil leases obtained by bribery, demand that the rank and file of the party, yet undelivered and responsive to no private interests, should have at least opportunity of expressing themselves in legislation and procedure."

His Call to Duty. "Above and beyond this, no man can render a greater service to his country than by speaking without limitation or fear in this era of exploitation and entrenched dishonesty. When every coward surrenders to cover; every craven draws to power; apologists masking as opponents excuse, because they assert it runs rampant in every party; when a press, with few exceptions, unites to hide and conceal, palliate and belittle corruption in government; when ugly bribery excites not even conventional indignation in those whose duty it is to speak a people's voice, somewhere, some one, however small the number, must speak."

An entire change from the household routine is a wonderful thing for a woman.

The women of Atlanta recognize that a certain amount of carefree pleasure is absolutely necessary and they plan their lives accordingly.

They buy for the entire day, early in the morning, from The Constitution's columns.

They know that no lower prices for the day can possibly be had.

Their afternoons and evenings are free for needed relaxation.

They let each day take care of itself.

140 Men Killed
At Tegucigalpa;
Looters Are Busy

Living Conditions "Deplorable" as Dead Lie Unburied in Streets.

Washington, April 10.—One hundred and forty men were killed in battle late Wednesday, when the combined rebel forces made an unsuccessful effort to rout the old government troops from their last stronghold at Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, a dispatch to the state department stated Thursday.

Losses to the rebel forces numbered 80 men and the government's casualties 90, the dispatch stated.

Following the attack, wholesale looting of stores was reported in the city. Four Chinese merchants and a Turkish storekeeper estimated thefts from their business places at $50,000.

Failure of both sides to bury their dead now lying in the streets, has made living conditions "deplorable," the report said, and typhoid and dysentery is spreading rapidly throughout Tegucigalpa.

$600,000 PLANT
URGED FOR CRISP

Sumter and Crisp Capitalists May Locate Hydro-Electric Project at Warwick.

Americus, Ga., April 10.—(Special.) A proposition to spend $600,000 in the development of a new power plant on Flint river, made here today by John W. Greer before a committee of the chamber of commerce, has interested Sumter and Crisp county capitalists, who have begun investigation, with the intention of pushing the project, it was announced here tonight. The proposed plant would furnish power to Americus, Cordele and intermediate points.

It is declared that the development would produce an immediate reduction in light and power costs throughout the entire territory served, and that within a few years there would be brought about an unprecedented and now impossible industrial development.

A committee to represent the Sumter county chamber of commerce composed of W. M. Jones, C. T. Warren and Carl S. Glover has been named to co-operate with a Crisp county committee composed of R. R. Harris, R. F. Fitzgibbon and Dobbin Holmes. These two committees will endeavor to work out details for carrying the development into effect at an early date, it is declared.

It is stated that options have been secured by promoters of the development upon extensive land holdings which would be flooded by the dam in the river and that these lands may be purchased at reasonable figures. The development, if consummated, will prove a strong competitor to the South Georgia Power company, which already serves this section with hydro-electric current generated at Albany, 35 miles below Americus, on the Flint river.

Daughter of Bootleg King
MIKE CUSAMANO RENOUNCES CROWN, KEEPS CASH

Proves Mightier Than Law

New York, April 10.—Mike Cusamano doesn't mind being called "king of the bootleggers" in New York or even in America.

Nor does it disturb him that half dozen of his bartenders are behind jail bars, or that 15 complaints and two commissioner's warrants are pending against him.

But, he explained today to David Siegel, assistant United States district attorney, (to be known by such a name in the old country and to have the opprobrium bring scorn and unhappiness to an 11-year-old daughter over there) that he is different.

"They pass her by on the street, but playmates," Mike said. "They make faces at her in school and say, 'daughter of the king of the bootleggers in America.' She writes me that she is unhappy, and sends me the newspaper clippings of dispatches from New York calling me that name, and begs me to come home."

So Mike has turned his wealth into cash—nearly a million dollars some say—and is sailing Monday for his native town of Ceneget, Italy, "to be the richest man in town and make my daughter happy." He visited the federal attorney because he didn't want it thought he was running away to avoid prosecution.

"But we haven't a thing on Mike," Mr. Siegel explained. "A lot of complaints, but no evidence that would convict. We're glad to wish him bon voyage."

In the death of Mr. York, coming only two weeks after the opening of the great new Rich department store, Atlanta loses not only one of her most important figures in the commercial growth of the city, but also a citizen who was widely known and universally loved.

As manager for the past twenty-seven years of the Rich store, Mr. York daily came into close personal contact with people in all walks of life. To his associates he was known as a warm and genial friend, and to hundreds of others he was known as a cordial acquaintance, always ready to go out of his way to do a favor or render a service.

Sullivan Forced To Pay Bandits
$50 For Drive

After Robbing Reed Oil Secretary, Highwaymen Give Him Carfare.

Depredations of bandits operating in automobiles continued Thursday night when Thomas A. Sullivan, of 455 Spring street, secretary and treasurer of the Reed Oil corporation, was accosted as he was mounting the steps of his home, forced into an automobile, driven to Maddox park, and robbed of $50. One of the bandits returned 25 cents, telling Sullivan it was for street car fare.

According to the story told Detective Mosely and Roper, Sullivan was starting up the steps of his home when two men alighted from a machine that had stopped in front of the house and ran toward him, both pointing pistols at him and ordering him to stop. Thinking friends were playing a joke, Sullivan paid little attention to them until they threatened to shoot.

Keeping the guns trained on him, the men forced Sullivan into the machine, which a third man drove to Maddox park. After rifling his pockets, the thugs forced Sullivan from the machine.

The bandits are described as being young and well dressed. Sullivan was unable to tell whether or not the driver was a negro, but both of the others were white men, he said.

Hugo Stinnes, Colossus of Industry, Succumbs to Ravages of Fever and Repeated Operations.

WAS KEYSTONE IN ARCH
OF GERMAN INDUSTRY

Death of Leader To Have Effect on Politics—May Sway Reaction To Report of Experts.

BY FERDINAND JAHN.

Berlin, April 10.—Hugo Stinnes, Colossus of German industry, is dead.

The dynamic half fabulous man of mystery whose enormous wealth and gigantic intellect had reached out to every phase of the German economic machine died Thursday in Berlin, exhausted after a series of operations and weakened by fever.

Stinnes had undergone an operation for gall stones, appeared improved, and then suffered a relapse. He was operated on a second time, but complications developed. His family rushed to Berlin while the best specialists in Germany labored to save his life.

Put Faith in Iron Will. Stinnes' family was at his bedside when he died. Earlier in the day members of the family had quoted him as being confident that he would survive. He believed that his iron will would prevail, even against death.

"I do not even dream of dying," he said.

For the past 24 hours, however, it had been known that his end was near. Occasionally he lapsed into periods of delirium, in which he muttered of huge commercial enterprises or gave orders to imaginary subordinates.

Delirium of Industry. Through these fevered pictures of his death-shadows dream world rank talk of ships, factories, coal, newspapers, banks and credits—hints of the tremendous organization whose fall ramifications probably were known to him alone.

Haunting on the words of every hubbub.

TWO NEAR DEATH
AFTER ACCIDENTS

M. A. Keith and P. E. Smith Suffer Fractured Skulls in Mishaps Thursday—Others Injured.

Two men are believed to be dying and four other persons were injured in accidents Thursday night. P. E. Smith, of 20 West Eleventh street, and M. A. Keith, of 88 Gaston avenue, are at Grady hospital with fractured skulls and little hope is held for their recovery.

Smith was injured when a controller box on an outboard East Hunter street-Grant Park street car exploded as the car was crossing Alabama street at Whitehall, causing a panic in which Smith was knocked against the side of the car. Keith was hurt when the light touring car he was driving crashed head-on into a street car on Forrest avenue near Butler street, pitching him to the pavement.

Those two men bring the total who have suffered fractured skulls as the results of accidents during the past three days to four. Both of the other victims, 10-year-old Taylor Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Bryant, of East Point, and Marion Porter, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Porter, 230 Cascade avenue, died from the injuries.

The Porter youngster died Wednesday.

Family, Ambulance Drivers and Unidentified Friend Are Among Victims.

Sam E. Tyree, 21, of 115 Kennedy street, Thursday night told police, "It's a tough old world."

Sam, a young man in a civil war at his home, lay battered and bruised on the floor of his cell at the police station. When the effect of chloroform, said to have been the cause of the whole trouble, has worn off and Sam's physical condition will permit, he will be tried in recorder's court on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and assault and battery.

For Tyree was not the only victim of the festivities. His wife, his father-in-law, J. R. Huff, at whose home Tyree lived; his mother-in-law, his brother-in-law, Horace W. Huff; S. A. Blanchard and H. C. Bass, drivers of the Hunter-Blanchard Co.'s ambulance, and a friend of Tyree's whose name was not learned.

Chairman of Special Committee Wires to Montana for All Records Touching Indictment.

Telephone Official Is Called To Tell Committee of Certain Conversations Wednesday.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, April 10.—Preparations have been made by the special senate committee, headed by Senator Borah, of Idaho, to "go to the bottom" of the indictment against Senator Wheeler, of Montana.

The committee will begin work as soon as possible.

Members of the committee met Thursday shortly after their appointment and authorized Senator Borah to telegraph the Montana court to turn over to the committee a copy of the indictment, the minutes of the grand jury, and other records in the case, with the names of witnesses who appeared. Borah sent his message directly to Judge Charles N. Pray, to whom the indictment was returned.

To Start at Once on Probe.

The investigation will begin as soon as this information can be secured and the witnesses brought here. Borah stated. In the event that there are witnesses here whom Senator Wheeler wishes to have called, Borah said the inquiry could begin sooner.

It has been suggested that Edwin S. Booth, solicitor of the interior department, who has been a friend of Wheeler for some years, might properly be called, as Wheeler stated that he is the only official of the interior department with whom he is acquainted. The Montana senator is charged with using his influence to secure oil and gas permits from the interior department.

The committee of investigation is composed, besides Borah, of: McLean, Connecticut; Sterling, South Dakota; republicans, and Caraway, Arkansas; and Swanson, Virginia, democrats.

Simultaneously with the appointment of the committee, two witnesses before the Brookhart committee investigating the department of justice presented testimony bringing former Attorney General Daugherty and officials of the republican national committee into the story.

Arthur Lambdin, an official of the telephone company here, was suddenly called to the committee.

Authoress Kills Landlady
DECLARES LIVING GOD OF BIBLE IS SATAN

To Spread New Theology

Portland, Ore., April 10.—Under the spell of her "Demon God," Miss Nora Hollis, authoress, Thursday killed her white-haired landlady to disseminate a new theology.

The slayer then went to police headquarters and told the desk sergeant: "I've just killed a woman."

She did it, she said, so that the world might know "the truth," and read her book entitled "The Living God of the Bible Is Satan, the Evil One."

"People should know," she said, "that God is really Satan."

This is the germ of her theology. Everywhere there is misery, sin, suffering—not the handiwork of a merciful God.

Had to Kill Someone. "I knew there was one way to make the world hear the truth," she said. "If I killed myself, the world would say 'just another crazy woman gone.' They wouldn't heed the warning and see the right. I knew I had to kill someone else."

Creeping into the parlor of the little East Twelfth street home, she hid a revolver ready. Mrs. Eva Bradley, 65, a kindly old lady, was seated at her sewing. She was bending over a worn tablecloth, with careful hands, mending a hole, absorbed entirely in the task of homely economy.

"I knew I had to shoot her, but I didn't want to do it," said the slayer

American Idiom
In Expert Report
Cause of Delays

Recommendations Were Too Much for English Translators in France.

London, April 10.—The experts' report was written almost entirely in Americanisms, and the English experts of the French foreign office were unable to translate it into English without assistance.

That is the remarkable explanation, coming from an authoritative source of why publication of the Dawes report was delayed for some time after the experts' labors had been concluded.

Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes and Owen D. Young did their full share of writing the report. But when the job was finished the corps of highly trained translators who had to translate it from English to French, apparently looked at the document in despair.

The report was written in American, and they could only speak English.

BLOOM, DEMOCRAT,
SEATED BY HOUSE

New York Delegation Assured to Democrats if Presidential Election Is Thrown Into House.

Washington, April 10.—By a vote of 210 to 198, the house has retained Sol Bloom, democrat, as a member of congress from the 19th New York district, and rejected the claim made by Walter M. Chandler, republican.

The retention of Bloom was made possible by the action of the La Follette republican insurgents, who went over to the democrats and voted for Bloom.

The effect is to preserve a democratic majority in the New York delegation, which means that should the house be called upon to choose the next president of the United States, New York would cast one democratic vote for president under the unit rule.

The four-hour debate preceding the action was bitter and partisan.

Representative Nelson, of Wisconsin, insurgent republican, opened the debate with a speech favoring retention of Bloom.

"In all fairness to yourselves, in all fairness to the gentleman from New York, Mr. Bloom, I asked you to vote against this abominable piece of party partisanship," he declared. "You say you have precedent for this action. That is admitted, but the precedent is all very bad."

Bloom, theatrical manager in private life, attempted to reduce the charges of fraud brought by Chandler to an absurdity by a humorous piece of acting and mimicry.

C. F. von HERMAN, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

authorized Wood and Spence to take Thursday from Forrest Adair.

Exchange of Threats.

The exchange of the threat and ultimatum between Attorney Spence and the committee chairman required at the end of the session Thursday night.

"How much longer do you think the defense will require to make out its case?" Chairman Inman asked.

"I do not know," replied Attorney Spence. "I am faced with the necessity of proving the negative of the charge that the chief did not make inspections at unusual hours and to prove it will require an overwhelming preponderance of evidence."

Questioned more specifically as to the quantity of the contemplated evidence, the attorney for the defense replied with emphasis that he meant to "put up ten witnesses who had seen the chief make inspections for every one the prosecution put up and had not seen him" and that he would "put the entire force on the stand if necessary."

The prosecution used 11 witnesses to make out its case that the chief had not made the inspections required by rule. The defense has put up already about 20, leaving 90 more to be called in case the "10 to 1" ratio is followed, or about 220 of the 250 men on the force if the entire force is called to the stand.

Police Testify.

The entire session Thursday night was consumed with testimony of 14 policemen from whom the opposing attorneys, with occasional interpolated questions from members of the committee, drew evidence on substantially the following points:

Chief Beavers has been seen by members of the force in out of the way places at unusual hours of the night.

Chief Beavers has not been seen in the station house.

such places and at such times "frequently."

It is an ordinary and frequent occurrence for policemen to make arrests of husbands at the request of wives, and of wives at the request of husbands.

It is not unusual for Chief Beavers to make such arrests personally, as he did in the case of Mrs. Asa G. Cantor, W. J. Stoddard and W. G. Keel.

Filed in Advance.

It is usual for complaints in such cases to be filed two or three weeks prior to the time that arrests are made, as was done in the case in question.

Policemen occasionally had been drawn into divorce cases as witnesses as the result of such arrests, but none of the policemen recalled any trial of an officer for infraction of police rules on account of it before.

Although such arrests were made frequently, almost daily, in Atlanta on complaints of husbands or wives residing in every state in the south, east, north and west, none of the witnesses remembered more than two or three such arrests which had resulted in divorce cases.

It is not unusual for a policeman, as Alderman Jesse W. Armstrong put the question, "to hang around police station waiting for a call to make such an arrest for two or three weeks intervening between the time of the first report and of the information which leads immediately to the arrest."

It is the custom in the police department to make arrests of husbands or wives when the report is to the effect that the circumstances at the immediate time of the report are such as to cause reasonable suspicion that the law is being violated.

It is not the custom, and is strictly against the rules, to keep watch on any husband or wife in the expectation that the watched person may be arrested into such a situation.

It is the custom of the police to make arrests without warrants in cases of immorality, but it is the custom usually to use warrants in prohibition cases.

It is customary always to arrest all persons implicated in a prohibition law violation and take them to police station and bond.

Facts in Candler Case.

The facts of the Candler arrest, as had been outlined in previous sessions, were that Chief Beavers had received information in confidence some time during January that Mrs. Candler and Mr. Stoddard were "being shadowed" and had been asked to investigate personally when he should receive a cryptic report which would indicate that they had been found in a situation such as to indicate a violation of law. He had then proceeded to the designated place, 48 Juniper street, without a warrant, had found the three persons there and had arrested them and taken them to police station to make bond.

Customs and practices of the police department, as outlined, were all detailed to substantially the same effect by Patrolman W. F. Anderson, Patrolman J. A. Allen, Patrolman C. P. Hill, Lieutenant W. H. Anderson, Plainclothes Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant, Captain W. F. Terry, Clarence Hamilton, Plainclothesman L. D. Gody, Patrolman B. P. Gillespie, Patrolman I. H. Lindsay, Lieutenant J. A. Hollis, Sergeant J. W. Barfield, Patrolman Steve Feller, Sergeant J. L. Gordon and Patrolman G. W. (Tony) Linnam, the oldest man on the force in point of service, who has been on the force, he said, "about 40 years."

Only Relief of Trial.

Patrolman Linnam supplied the only relief from what had been an almost monotonous drabness in the course of the trial before he was called to the stand. Committee, audience and counsel alike were convulsed with laughter at his colorful relation of incidents during the two score years which he had devoted, he said, to "taking care of himself."

"Have you ever seen the chief on four or five inspections at unusual hours?" asked Attorney Spence.

"Seen him when I didn't want to? I was afraid to see him," rejoined the witness with a wise wag of his grizzled head.

"Why was that?"

"Well, we differed, differed politically," he replied.

Love For Theatrical World Marked Lucian York's Life

BY PAUL JONES.

In striking down the figure of Lucian York almost upon the threshold of the wonderful monument so recently completed largely through his efforts to the splendid success of southern commercial progress, a whimsical fate delivered a most inexplicable stroke at one of Atlanta's most effective men.

Atlanta and the south have lost a rare spirit, and the commercial world has been robbed of a merchant prince. Lucian York, to those who knew him best, was a man of dual personality.

Living through his business days to help build up the fortunes of perhaps the most remarkable retail establishment in the great southeast, he often retired after business hours to live over in retrospect the days of his youth, and indulge in romantic dreams of hours spent in Atlanta's first big playhouse, where for many years he enjoyed the companionship of the most famous figures on the American stage.

Notwithstanding his arduous duties with the large retail establishment, he was never too busy to spend an hour with one he knew would understand, telling of the days when he talked with Jefferson, a playboy with Modjeska, exchanged a pleasurable talk with Lewis Morrison, and enjoyed the little intimacies that came from his association with other romantic figures appearing from time to time on the stage of the old Grand opera house.

He also enjoyed his life-long friendship with the late Laurent Devere, and related with great pleasure the many happy incidents that transpired during his association with the great-hearted man who erected the Grand, and who was beloved by theatrical folk from coast to coast.

Lucian York knew every actor and actress of importance appearing in Atlanta during the past half century, and he possessed a collection of photographs that is perhaps the most complete of any owned by a private individual not connected with the theatrical world.

Despite the great demand that was made upon his time and his vitality by business affairs, Mr. York found time to write a story of his connection with the Grand theater, from the time of his first service there as ticket taker on the gallery door to the day of his departure from the old institution to devote his entire time to his work with the Rich organization.

This wonderfully interesting story, a real history of Atlanta's principal playhouse, may or may not be published as a posthumous story of his love for the theatrical world, but whether it is ever made public or not, it must be said that he gave his heart to it, and that he demonstrated beyond doubt that while his vision and ambitions for the future were concentrated in the splendid retail and wholesale establishments, his heart was in the past, his soul wandering over the old theater, communing with romantic spirits of other days.

Washington, Pa., April 10.—The case of 26 men, held without bail on charges of murder and riot in connection with the fight between visiting Ku Klux Klansmen and residents at Lilly, near here, last Saturday night, will be appealed to the state supreme court by their attorney, Percy Allen Rose, Mr. Rose said today that he would appeal from the decision of Judge John A. Evans, who last night refused an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Washington, April 10.—A resolution proposing to discharge the committee investigating the internal revenue bureau from that work immediately was introduced in the senate late today by Chairman Watson, republican, Indiana, of the investigating committee.

The resolution merely directed that the committee "be and it hereby is discharged" from the investigation. It has been conducting under a resolution introduced by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan. Under the rules, the resolution will not come up for senate action until tomorrow.

While the resolution made no statement as to the reason for quashing the investigation, it was an open secret that Senators Watson and Ernst, of Kentucky, the two republican members of the investigating committee, decided upon that course in conference with republican leaders as a consequence of Senator Couzens' determination to employ Francis J. Henry, of California, as special counsel for the investigating committee, paying Henry's expenses in that connection out of his own pocket.

There was no debate when Senator Watson introduced the resolution. The Indiana senator made no statement in connection with its introduction, and Senator Couzens was not in the chamber.

Washington, April 10.—Congress needs more war veterans in its membership, Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, himself a graduate of the A. E. Love For Theatrical World Marked Lucian York's Life

CREAGER CHARGES LIE TO WITNESS

Washington, April 10.—More than 100 members of the senate committee on the investigation into alleged land frauds in the lower Rio Grande valley of Texas continued today when R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from that state, used his vantage point as a spectator to denounce in full tones as "maliciously false" an assertion by James H. Page, Kansas city attorney, who is assisting Senator Heflin, democrat of Alabama, committee president.

Page had charged that the land interests of Creager, who is charged by Senator Heflin with being implicated in the alleged frauds, would "not allow evidence to be presented to a grand jury."

"That's false—maliciously false," Creager broke in, from his spectator's seat.

Wheeler Withers Hecker, the Texas national committeeman, was again heard from a minute later when he flatly contradicted an assertion by Senator Heflin during a discussion of the water supply in the Rio Grande valley, that it was "not there in 1921."

"I will call you when I want you," the senator shouted back at a minute later when he could leave the room if he "couldn't conduct himself properly."

During the powerful interludes of the session, George A. Hill, Jr., of Houston, Texas, counsel for Creager, questioned Rush D. Simmons, chief postal inspector, who continued on the stand, about the investigations by postal inspectors in the alleged land frauds, and read into the record testimonial letters as to Creager's standing from among prominent Texans.

Reads Affidavits.

These included former Governor O. B. Colquhoun and Justice David West, a complimentary description of the Rio Grande valley recently painted in the senate by Senator Sheppard, democrat of Texas, also was read into the record.

Hill then read an affidavit by S. H. Woods, district attorney of the seventh judicial district of Texas, attesting that in September, 1921, eight indictments for bribery were returned against James R. Page, of Kansas City.

The affidavit, sworn to last March 18, sets forth that "because James R. Page has been a fugitive from justice from the state of Texas since the return of such indictments, and because of the fact that there was no prospect of his returning, and because such offenses are not extraditable, each and all of these indictments and the disbarment proceedings were dismissed."

Page Not Involved.

Senator Heflin insisted at this point that to charges against Page could affect the truth of fraud, it committed.

Questions based on the "confidential" report of Postal Inspector O. B. Williamson, who made an inquiry into the alleged land frauds after Postal Inspector J. M. Donahue, of Kansas City, had been relieved because of alleged "prejudice," were addressed to Chief Inspector Simmons by Hill. Simmons declared there was a general practice to remove an inspector from a case because of complaints of "prejudice" and that he had done so.

Replying to a question by Senator Heflin, Simmons said the postmaster general (Will Hays) had said Mr. Donahue "was" over-enthusiastic and agreed to change inspectors.

Hill then asked the witness questions which he said showed that Creager had "demanded a full and prompt investigation of alleged land frauds."

A subpoena was issued today for J. E. Baughn, a farmer of Hurlingham, Texas.

to him with a hard luck story without receiving help," said one leading member of the organization. There "are literally hundreds of unknown recipients of his charity, who have been helped over the rough spots in life by Lucian York."

The great store on Broad, Alabama and Forsyth streets closed at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon after word of his death had reached the executive staff. It will remain closed all day Friday and Saturday. It was stated, funeral arrangements had not been made Thursday night, but it is considered probable that the funeral will be held Saturday afternoon.

Walter H. Rich, vice president of the company, was in New York when Mr. York died. He was notified immediately by telephone and left by the first train for Atlanta, which he will reach Saturday morning. He requested that the funeral be postponed if possible until he could be present. Mr. Rich left for New York Wednesday, after being assured that Mr. York was improving, but had only been in New York 10 minutes when the telephone call telling of his associate's death reached him.

Mr. York was born in Atlanta in 1860 in the old Secret house at the corner of Broad and Luckie streets on a lot now occupied by the Metropolitan theater. Educated in the public schools of this city, he went to work for the Rich store in September, 4, 1884, when he was 15 years of age. This was the only concern for which he ever worked during his entire business career.

Beginning as a cash boy, he rapidly advanced in the organization and in 1897 was made general manager. In 1907 he was elected to the board of directors, and at the time of his death owned a considerable amount of stock in the company.

The great store is in large department.

Don't let that cough run on

IT'S much easier to check it now than after serious complications develop. Nothing like Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar Honey to stop coughing quickly. Just those medicines that up-to-date doctors prescribe for loosening heavy phlegm and soothing throat tissues are in it—combined with the old reliable remedy—pine-tar honey. Keep it on hand for all the family.

tree a monument to the genius of Lucian York. As manager for 27 years he had been a leading spirit in the big organization and aided by his skillful direction the business grew until the Whitehall street store became totally inadequate for its needs.

Selects New Store Site.

It was Mr. York who selected the site on Broad, Alabama and Forsyth on which the new structure, greatest department store in the entire South, was constructed. His inspiration and genius was largely responsible for its construction and the results of his experience in merchandising, embodied in new ideas in store construction, are to be seen throughout the splendid building.

It probably was due partly to his intense interest in the new store that he contracted the cold which rapidly developed into pneumonia and proved fatal.

He worked untiringly for weeks before the formal opening, on March 24, and took practically no rest for many days.

About a week before the opening, he went on a fishing trip seeking some degree of relaxation from the strain under which he was laboring, and it is believed that was when he contracted the cold. He complained for more than a week about this cold, and on March 29, five days after the store to which he had given so much was first thrown open to the public, he left his office for the last time.

Loved Stars of Stage.

Mr. York took an intense interest in theatrical affairs and numbered scores of the greatest stars of earlier days among his close personal friends. He was a familiar figure at nearly all theater presentations of any importance, and, in particular, loved the operas of the city.

Low Deckster and Al G. Fields, minstrel stars who are now dead, were his friends and they never came to Atlanta without visiting his office for an hour's gossip about old stage days.

At one time it is said, Mr. York contemplated entering the business himself, but this plan was never realized. The closest he came to personal part in the show business was when he acted as night doorman at the Grand many years ago, when it was the home of the famous vaudeville act, and when he was the ending genius behind many of the best local talent entertainments given here.

Mr. York married Miss Stella Cooper, of Atlanta, on June 18, 1891. There were no children by the union. He is survived by his widow; one sister, Mrs. E. P. Avery, of Atlanta, and one brother, Norman York, who is with the Carlton Shoe and Clothing company, of Atlanta.

Funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

WHEELER ATTACK

ly called before the committee, and upon questioning told of a telephone conversation here Wednesday between George B. Lockwood, secretary of the republican national committee, and Blair Coan, of Great Falls, Montana, where the indictment against Wheeler was returned.

Senator Wheeler at once summoned William J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation, to the stand and Burns identified Coan as being an employee of the republican committee, but said he was not connected with the department of justice.

Burns further admitted that he had sent three men to Great Falls a week ago to investigate Wheeler and those who were indicted with him, and that he and Daugherty had discussed the case. He could not remember, he said, whether this was before Daugherty resigned. He said an expert accountant of the department of justice, who was one of those sent to Great Falls, had been requested to do some work for the post office department on the case three weeks ago. Burns also testified that he had seen Daugherty and Lockwood together recently.

Many to Be Called.

As a result of these disclosures Thursday, it is likely that all those involved in the testimony will be summoned before the special committee headed by Senator Borah. The Idaho member states that all who appeared to know anything regarding the indictment would be called.

"A serious charge has been made against a senator and we are going to the bottom of it," Borah said. The chairman said that he could not predict, of course, what the scope of the investigation would be, as no one knows what may develop. It is his intention, however, Borah said, to hold the inquiry to the main line, that is, the indictment, and growing out of it, the fitness of Senator Wheeler to hold office.

"We are not going out on any wild goose chase," Borah said. "This is purely an investigation of the qualifications of a man to sit in the senate. Having determined his fitness to sit in the senate, the committee will have discharged its duty."

Open hearings will be held, Borah said, remarking that he couldn't conceive of an executive hearing for this case.

PARISIANS GIVE GREAT RECEPTION TO QUEEN MARIE

Paris, April 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—Wearing a natty French blue top and a handsome black coat, Queen Marie of Rumania, Europe's youngest royal grandmother, arrived with King Ferdinand at the royal station in the Bois de Boulogne today for a three days' visit of state.

The queen was the object of an enthusiastic ovation as she rode down the Champs Elysees beside Madame Milerand, wife of the French president. The Parisians, having no king of their own, are always enthusiastic over visiting royalty, but today's welcome was a personal one, inspired in no small measure by the beauty of the queen.

As the gala cortege wended its way through the Avenue Du Bois de Boulogne, a surprise was given to the royal visitors, as well as to the royal visitors, was given an ovation. Riding in the third carriage with M. Poincare, the Rumanian foreign minister, he was the object of cheers along the route, indicating that despite the recent coldness toward him in the chamber of deputies, he is still popular with people.

MOTHER WINS CHILD
Woman Weeps as Tot Mate Took Fails To Know Her.

Huntsville, Ala., April 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Macon Sparkman, who claims that her husband, Lamont Sparkman, deserted her at her home in Huntsville, Tenn., some time ago, taking with him their two-year-old daughter, has won a suit she brought in circuit court here for the custody of the child. The little girl did not know her, and the woman went bitterly in court after winning the victory. The case was tried before Judge James E. Horton.

CHATHAM SCHOOLS
MAY GET ESTATE

Savannah, Ga., April 10.—Alex R. Macdonell, administrator of the estate of the late Adelaide B. Chaplin, today began proceedings which it is thought will eventually turn the estate, valued at about $200,000, over to the public school funds of Chatham county. Mrs. Chaplin died October 22, 1919, leaving the estate. She left no heirs. Her property was inherited by her husband and from her unmarried stepson. All heirs are advised to file their claims not later than April 10, 1925, or the estate will revert to the state.

This is one of the very rare cases of this kind in Savannah and Chatham county. The woman was a native heir in the Philippines, a youth, but it is there he has never made his presence known.

M'ADOO ENTERS N. CAROLINA RACE

Raleigh, N. C., April 10.—William G. McAdoo, candidate for the democratic nomination for president, today entered the presidential primary to be held in North Carolina on June 7 by filing notice of his candidacy with the state board of elections.

Mr. McAdoo was entered in the primary by his North Carolina manager, Judge Walter Brock, of Winston-Salem. Judge Brock's letter to the election board was accompanied by a telegram from Mr. McAdoo authorizing him to enter his name in the primary in this state.

WALSH PLANS TO CURB
PARTY CONTRIBUTIONS

Washington, April 10.—Amendment to the election laws, to prohibit payment of deficits for national political organizations or candidates by "groups or individuals seeking to obligate political parties," was proposed today in a resolution by Senator Walsh, democrat of Massachusetts.

Senator Walsh further would require the registration of all persons appearing for financial or other consideration before a committee of congress to advocate legislation or to solicit the vote of members of congress.

The resolution recited that allegations have been made regarding "extraneous election expenditures in the recent national election," and that the "control of legislation or government by individuals and groups interested in the business of private advantage" have met campaign deficits. It asserted that "it is apparent that undue influence could be brought directly or indirectly to bear upon the legislative and administrative branches of the government" through these practices.

The public lands committee, which is conducting the oil inquiry, would be called upon under the resolution to frame amendments or draw new statutes which would have that effect and which also would require semi-annual statements from each party as to contributions and expenditures.

DOG'S DEATH SEEN
AS MAJOR MOTIVE
IN ARSON CASES

Abbeville, Ga., April 10.—G. W. Black and Sam Patterson, the later a negro, were bound over to a higher court today on a charge of arson. The negro, according to county officers, admits that he burned a barn on the farm of Charles McCall, Black's father, J. D. Black, was released.

According to the evidence produced before Judge Whitehurst at the commitment hearing, Black, a farmer on McCall's farm, became angry with the latter because he suspected him of killing a dog.

In-Laws Blamed By Wife Slayer In Death Letter

Bluefield, W. Va., April 10.—The note written by George E. Moore to his mother shortly before he killed his wife, Charlotte, and then committed suicide here last night, indicated that he had intended to kill himself, because of the impending separation of the family, but had no thought of taking his wife's life, it was disclosed today.

W. J. Jenks, of Roanoke, Va., general manager of the Norfolk and Western railroad and father of Mrs. Moore, arrived today and arranged to have the body of his daughter sent to the Virginia city for burial. Moore will be buried here tomorrow.

The note, found in Moore's pocket by the undertaker who took charge of the body, was under date of April 9. "Oh, mother, tell Charlotte I love her; I can't stand her going away," it read. "Mother and Louise forgive me, but they have made me miserable and now they are taking Charlotte and Jack away from me." Louise was Moore's sister and Jack his 4-year-old son.

Mrs. Jenks came to Bluefield to take her daughter and the boy to the Jenks home in Roanoke, it is said. It was believed that Moore knew nothing of this, but during a card game last night with members of the family, he spoke of it. A few minutes later he went upstairs and called his wife. The shooting followed.

DOG'S DEATH SEEN
AS MAJOR MOTIVE
IN ARSON CASES

Abbeville, Ga., April 10.—G. W. Black and Sam Patterson, the later a negro, were bound over to a higher court today on a charge of arson. The negro, according to county officers, admits that he burned a barn on the farm of Charles McCall, Black's father, J. D. Black, was released.

According to the evidence produced before Judge Whitehurst at the commitment hearing, Black, a farmer on McCall's farm, became angry with the latter because he suspected him of killing a dog.

EAST-WEST FLORIDA RAIL LINE IS URGED

Washington, April 10.—The Seaboard Air Line railway and the Florida and Northern railroad filed with the interstate commerce commission today their responses to the commission's inquiries concerning the application by the latter road for authority to construct a line across the state of Florida to connect with the Seaboard, which would operate it under lease.

Construction of the line, which would connect Tampa, St. Petersburg, Belle Air and other points on the west coast and Palm Beach on the east coast, has been opposed before the commission by the Atlantic Coast Line and the Florida East Coast railway as "unwarranted."

In a statement issued today with the filing of the responses by the two roads, S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard, declared construction of the proposed cross-state line would "form an important connection and extension of the Seaboard."

"Only those familiar with the exceptional development in Florida now under way can realize the necessity for the additional facilities proposed," he said. "Even before the European war, the Seaboard Air Line declined to find the means to supply central Florida with a way out to the two coasts of Florida, combining through-line railroad service to points east and in the west."

"The new railroad construction will be approximately 235 miles all told, laid with 100-pound rails, less than three-tenths of one per cent grade and two degrees curvature. The distance via the new line and the Seaboard connection between Tampa and Belle Air and other west coast points will be approximately 180 miles. A six-hour schedule between these points will be provided, with three hours from the central section to either coast, and slightly added time to St. Petersburg, the west coast and West Palm Beach on the east coast will be approximately 180 miles.

LAW OBSERVANCE SHOULD BE PLEA

Washington, April 10.—President Coolidge, addressing members of the law enforcement committee for law enforcement from the south portion of the white house today, told them successful law enforcement depended primarily upon the measure of public sentiment for observance of the law.

"I sometimes wish," the president said, "that people would put a little more emphasis upon the observance of the law than they do upon its enforcement. It is a maxim of our institutions that it is the government, and not the people, that makes the law. That is why a gathering of this kind is so encouraging to me."

The president, who received the committee after they had heard addresses on the subject of the two new members of his cabinet, Attorney General Stone and Secretary Willard, and the other speakers, emphasized that the only practical course for stimulating respect for law was a ceaseless "weakening of the resistance" through movements such as come from our activities, and through a determination that there shall be a new order of things.

Attorney General Stone declared the vital principles of respect for and enforcement of law must be held to apply equally to the "enemies of society" and to all the "enemies of agencies of the government." Prohibition Commissioner Haynes called the members to a "second crusade in behalf of prohibition," and Secretary Willard, in a message read to the gathering, declared the "test of devotion to our institutions is respect for law itself."

Are Laughing at Flag. Secretary Willard held up as a greater enemy of society than the robber or murderer the man who "laughs at the law because he does not like it or because he feels he can avoid its penalties."

"Some people think the Volstead act and the 18th amendment a joke, but they are laughing at the Stars and Stripes," he said. "Law enforcement in its last analysis is a matter of patriotism."

In a letter read to the gathering Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., asked whether "we have not come to the time when we must honestly enforce our prohibition law, honestly try to change it?" She called upon American women to use the vote to correct a situation in which "our faith in our political leaders is too often shaken by their seeming indifference to this vital question of law enforcement and a storm is eating out the heart of the future leaders."

Detroit Bandits Rob Mail Truck But Miss Haul

Detroit, April 10.—Seven sacks of mail were obtained early this evening by four armed bandits who crowded a United States mail truck to the curb near the Michigan Central depot. The mail was destined for a Michigan Central train for New York.

This train usually carries remittances of banks and business firms to New York, but another truck, said by postoffice officials to contain most of the registered mail, preceded the truck robbed by about 10 minutes.

No estimate of the value of the mail taken could be obtained from the postoffice.

ABOLITION OF FEE SYSTEM IS URGED BY JUDGE BRYAN

Judge Shepard Bryan, in an address before the Atlanta real estate board at its regular monthly meeting Thursday at the Ansley hotel, expressed himself in favor of abolition of the fee system, in accordance with results of the March primary.

Among other things, he pointed out that the saving which would have resulted if the salary, instead of the fee system, had been paid would probably have prevented the necessity of the large special county tax levy in 1923.

The meeting was attended by a large number of Atlanta's most prominent citizens. Judge Bryan had been requested to speak on the effects of the salary and fee systems in regard to real estate.

NEGRO COMMITTEE READY FOR ANNUAL SPRING CLEAN-UP

The cleanup campaign committee among the colored people of the city has its plans and program ready for the cleanup week, which begins Monday.

Each year this campaign among the colored people here has attracted wide attention, as each year a prize has been awarded to Atlanta by the national campaign committee for the fine work done by the colored people.

This year it is the ambition of the local committee to do better than ever before, because the workers understand the plans and programs better than ever before, already promised every assistance to help make the campaign a big success. Headquarters this year are at 154 1/2 Auburn avenue, in the office of the Neighborhood Union.

STEWART REPUBLICANS WILL BOOST COOLIDGE

Lumpkin, Ga., April 10.—(Special.)—Republicans of Stewart county met at Lumpkin Thursday and adopted resolutions of sorrow relative to the death of the late President Warren G. Harding and approved the administration of President Calvin Coolidge.

Delegates to represent Stewart county in the Georgia convention to be held at Atlanta April 30 were elected as follows: Dr. R. M. Lovorn and D. P. Mathis. They were instructed to urge delegates to the national republican convention who will favor President Coolidge.

Baptist Sunday Schools Elect Ferrell, End Meet

LaGrange, Ga., April 10.—(Special.)—Ralph H. Ferrell, of Albany, was elected president and Augusta was chosen as the next meeting place at the closing session of the fourth annual convention of the Georgia Baptist Sunday School association here today. The convention will meet April 7-9 at the 1925 sessions.

Other officers elected are: C. J. Hood, Commerce; J. P. Nichols, Griffin; C. J. Wyatt, Rome, and Mrs. E. K. Overstreet, Savannah, vice presidents, and Dr. Martin A. Wood, pastor of the Vineville Baptist church, of Macon, secretary and treasurer.

The program Thursday morning was featured by departmental conferences, and the presentation of associational work.

Miss Margaret Frost, of Louisville, delivered the principal address, James W. Merritt, state Sunday school field secretary, and Dr. Homer L. Grice, of Washington, conducted a conference on daily vacation Bible school work. Among those who delivered talks on associational work were: W. C. Coleman, of LaGrange; Gainer E. Bryan, of Rileville; Rev. H. M. Melton, of Arlington, and James W. Merritt, of Atlanta.

Thursday afternoon session was devoted to the demonstration of actual teaching and departmental work by approximately 200 Sunday school workers of the LaGrange First Baptist church.

The barbecue which had been prepared for noon today was served in the building and several dining and sight-seeing trips which had been arranged for the visitors were called off on account of rain.

During the Thursday evening session, which marked the close of the

Ward Delegations To Name Democrat Sub-Committeemen

Members of the sub-committee of the city democratic executive committee will be named by the ward delegations, instead of by the committee chairman, as formerly, according to a decision reached by the committee in session in the council chamber at city hall Thursday night.

Named on the subcommittee, following the institution of the plan, were:

First ward, J. L. Peacock; second ward, Dr. J. E. Turner; third ward, Benjamin T. Huie; fourth ward, E. A. Hollingsworth; fifth ward, W. E. Fleming; sixth ward, M. F. Dowdy; seventh ward, Mrs. D. O. Cochill; eighth ward, Julian V. Boehm; ninth ward, Fred P. Gibbs; tenth ward, Thomas C. Smith; eleventh ward, Homer C. Denton; twelfth ward, L. E. Buchanan.

The meeting Thursday evening was called primarily to consider rules under which the committee should operate. The general rules, while adopted by a close vote, will be printed and distributed among the executive committee members for consideration, so that any amendments thought advisable may be suggested.

The permanent rules committee, named Thursday, consists of: J. E. McJenkins, seventh ward, chairman; J. R. McMichael, first ward; Mrs. J. Sherrer, sixth ward;

Frank Weldon, eighth ward; Earl M. Carnan, eleventh ward. On the printing committee, the only other committee announced at the meeting, are Dr. O. E. Cillum, seventh ward, chairman; D. F. Chandler, fourth ward; J. D. Jones, tenth ward; Park S. Rusk, ninth ward; Mrs. L. H. Allen, fourth ward.

WILBUR STARTS NEW OIL POLICY

Washington, April 10.—A new oil policy, designed to safeguard the government against any such losses as those granted under former Secretary Denby, was announced today by Secretary Wilbur.

In a letter to Senator Hale, of Maine, chairman of the senate naval committee, Mr. Wilbur declared that "no leases or contracts will be made by the navy department without the personal approval of the secretary of the navy."

"No further leases will be made until expressly authorized by congress," he continued, "unless it appears to be absolutely essential to prevent the draining of oil in the reserves by wells drilled adjacent thereto, and unless it further appears that such leases are fully authorized by act of congress, and in that event such leases will be made only after competitive bidding."

Refers to Teapot Dome.

Referring to the Teapot Dome litigation now pending Secretary Wilbur said he would avoid "in every way any act or proceeding which will in any way involve the rights of the government in such litigation and will avoid any conduct which may in any way interfere with the contentions advanced by the attorneys for the government."

"The question as to whether or not the oil reserves should be managed by the navy department or the department of the interior, or the extent to which these departments should cooperate in the further management of the reserves," the letter said, "is involved in the pending litigation and the secretary of the navy and the navy department will be guided by the judgment in the aforementioned litigation, unless in the meantime congress enacts legislation for the control of such reserves."

For the information of the senate committee, Secretary Wilbur said it should be stated that "both reserves No. 1 (California) and No. 2 (Teapot Dome) contain large quantities of oil that can be preserved in the ground, at least for the present."

Secretary No. 2 (California), he said, "presents a different situation by reason of the leases to the Honoluhua oil company."

With reference to the drilling of oil wells, the letter continued, "we will submit to the commission studying the situation the question as to whether or not contracts awarding the government a portion of the oil drilled from our reserves and flowing from wells upon adjacent property cannot be arranged for, based upon the consideration not to drill such oil wells, in lieu of the drilling of such wells and the payment of additional drain upon the oil reserves."

Plan for Oil Tanks.

"The navy department has a comprehensive plan for oil tanks at strategic points. This plan was drawn up by the war plans division and has been approved by the general board. We are making modifications in the same as adopted in 1919. At this time the navy department has 1,100,000 barrels of oil tankage complete and filled with oil. In addition, there are at Portsmouth, N. H., 300,000 barrels of tankage being constructed under the Munitions Oil laws, and approximately 95 per cent completed, and 2,620,000 barrels of tankage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, being constructed under the Munitions Oil laws, approximately 70 per cent completed. None of this tankage contains oil, but the leases are at present continuing work upon both projects.

"I may add that I shall take personal charge of all matters of the navy department pertaining to oil leases and no leases nor contracts will be made in this department without the personal approval of the secretary of the navy."

In making this statement, I do not wish to be understood as taking any position either for or against the validity of the executive order of May 31, 1921, under attack in the above mentioned litigation.

"I assume it is not probable that congress will legislate on the subject of oil reserves pending the decision in the above mentioned case, and for that reason make no recommendation concerning such legislation."

MIDAS OF GERMANY PASSES TO BEYOND

Retired from the sick room, the Berlin banker awaited the death of his industrial giant. None could foresee the passing of the man who had been a figure on the economic structure of Germany. It is reported that while he was in the hospital he was offered large sums for advance word of his end, planning speculations that might bring them new riches.

To Affect Politics.

The death of Hugo Stinnes comes at a time when it will undoubtedly have an effect on the political situation in Germany. His name has been a powerful influence in the German reaction to the experts' report. Stinnes' industrial enterprises were so vast that the political carried great influence in the Reichstag.

The dead industrialist was one of the most dramatic and significant figures that emerged out of the chaos of post war Europe. In a sense, he symbolized the reconstruction period in Germany.

Stinnes, who was 54 years old, was born in 1864 at Moers, near Düsseldorf. After a technical education, he joined the firm of his grandfather, Matthias Stinnes, but after a year branched out in business for himself, starting his own firm with a capital of about $125,000. Stinnes was then 23 years old. At first, he dealt in coal. His firm grew rapidly, and he began to be interested in metal factories. Soon he was also engaged in shipping. Money rolled into his coffers from all sides.

Contrary to general belief, Stinnes was not a war millionaire. He had already acquired a fortune of 40,000,000 gold marks in 1914. His word already carried tremendous weight in Germany.

Stinnes Had Midas Touch.

With the coming of the world war, Stinnes became the real center of German industry. It is said that he supplied Germany with most of her war materials. He made huge profits, and invested his gains in neutral countries. Neither the revolution, the fall of the mark nor the disorganization of German industry harmed him. He profited by every turn of fate. When the mark crashed, he made money by speculation. He bought up new businesses when industry tottered.

In the peace period, Stinnes began to acquire newspapers throughout Germany, entered into ship building, and won a seat in the Reichstag. His fortune was then so enormous that none could estimate it. It has been said that Stinnes himself did not know and could not know how much he was worth.

Was Political Power.

Stinnes held great political power, but he was seldom on the political stage. He represented Germany at the Spa conference, and freely criticized the allies there. In 1922, he concluded an agreement with Marquis de Lubersac for the reconstruction of the devastated areas in France. He is said to have contributed largely to the funds of the peoples' party in Germany. Beyond this, his political activities have all been carried on quietly.

Stinnes was not a striking figure physically. He seemed a quiet, unobtrusive man, marked only by coal black hair, a pointed black beard, a low nose and narrow piercing eyes. Of late years he made his home in Berlin, in a suite at the magnificent Hotel Esplanade, which he owned.

identical row which have served as headquarters for Senator Hiram Johnson's campaign will be available to new tenants Monday. Officers of the hotel expected the Johnson suite would be vacated tomorrow.

Files and papers from the hotel suite will be transferred to the law offices of Harold L. Jokes, Illinois manager for the senator.

Although the Chicago offices have not been considered national headquarters of the campaign since Frank H. Hitchcock relinquished active general direction of the Johnson forces early in February, they have served as a clearing house for strategic plans for several mid-western states.

When Mr. Hitchcock withdrew from the Chicago quarters in February following Mr. Jokes' appointment as Illinois manager, he emphasized that in the broader sense the Johnson campaign would be constituted of a number of individual and virtually independent state contests with only such general coordination as might be suggested by Senator Johnson.

JOHNSON TO PRESS CALIFORNIA CAMPAIGN.

San Francisco, Cal., April 10.—Senator Johnson's campaign in California is well organized and will be vigorously pressed, according to a statement issued here today by headquarters for the Johnson-for-President organization. The statement denied that Senator Johnson had withdrawn from the presidential primary campaigns.

HELP SENT TO CURB RIOTING STRIKERS

Dover, N. H., April 10.—Police from other cities aided the local force today in patrolling the business section and keeping everyone on the move as a result of a disturbance last night which resulted in six arrests. Among those arrested was Bert Emery, organizer of the One Big Union.

The arrests followed refusal of a crowd of Pacific mills-strike sympathizers who had been picketing in front of the home of H. A. Newton, mill agent, to disperse. Fearing further trouble, the police sent ten patrolmen from Nashua and ten from Lawrence, Mass., who arrived early today.

Nashua, N. H., April 10.—Six Nashua policemen, equipped with two machine guns and side arms, left early today for Dover at the request of officials of that city for aid in quelling rioting said to be in connection with a strike.

The Municipal Water Supply Problem of Atlanta was presented in an address before the sanitary engineering division by Paul H. Norcross, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. His address was followed by discussion by J. N. Crocker, of Pittsburgh; Nisbet Wingfield, of Augusta, Ga., and Ezra B. Whitman, of Baltimore.

A bridge luncheon was tendered the wives and daughters accompanying the visitors and in the afternoon the engineers and women were guests of an excursion to view the cyclorama of the battle of Atlanta and to Stone Mountain to see the Confederate memorial being hewn into the side of the mountain under the direction of Gustav Borglum. A dinner was given the delegates at night.

Each division session was preceded by a 30-minute business session, following which the speakers' program was taken up.

Charles G. Adsit, vice president and executive engineer of the Georgia Power company, of Atlanta, addressed the power division on the "Operations of the Inter-Connected Power Systems of the South." Mr. Adsit said the inter-connected power systems of the five states of the southeast "present the nearest approach to what many writers misname a 'super-power system,' with perhaps the one exception of the systems of California."

The address was devoted mainly to a discussion of the make-up of the inter-connected systems of the southeast. His address was taken under discussion by Joseph Hyde Pratt, director of the North Carolina Geological and Economic survey, of Asheville, and W. P. Hammond, assistant chief engineer of the Georgia Railway and Power company, of Atlanta.

The highway division was addressed by W. R. Noel, Georgia state highway engineer, who described the equipment, plants, costs and methods of the Georgia state highway department. H. K. Bishop, chief of the division of construction, United States bureau of public roads, Washington; W. S. Keller, Alabama state highway engineer, of Montgomery, and Charles H. Moorefield, South Carolina state highway engineer, of Columbia, participated in the discussion. THREE PROPOSALS BY WALSH TO STOP CORRUPT PRACTICE

Washington, April 10.—The first step toward new legislation dealing with the question of big campaign contributions has come with the introduction of a resolution by Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, democrat, to direct the senate public lands committee, now concluding its oil investigation, to draft changes in election laws which would:

1.—Prevent future unlawful practices in elections and campaign expenditures.

2.—Require semi-annual returns to be made of contributions and expenditures of all nationally organized political parties.

3.—Require all persons appearing for a financial or other consideration before congress or committees of congress to advocate legislation to solicit the votes of members, to register and record the name of their employer, the amount of their fee, and the legislation advocated.

This proposal to tighten the corrupt practices statutes comes as a result of disclosures regarding large political contributions made during the Teapot Dome and department of justice investigations, and follows a demand a few days ago by Senator Borah that both parties abolish the trust by which they wink at the acceptance of large gifts from interests which stand to profit by official acts.

The charter was applied for by C. H. Candler, who is president of the association: Victor H. Krieshaber, M. L. Wilkinson, W. L. Peel, H. M. Atkinson, John S. Cohen, Clark Howell, C. B. Bidwell, W. M. Brownlee, James B. Nevin, F. J. Paxton, Oscar Mills, Lucian York, Ivan Allet and R. S. Parker.

The petitioners sent a committee before the county commissioners ten days ago to request appropriation of $40,000 with which to pay actual cost of constructing the stadium, along the lines followed by St. Louis, Detroit, Cincinnati and other cities. The application was referred to the finance committee with power to act.

The contemplated stadium will seat 12,000 spectators. Light opera performances will draw immense throngs. Atlanta, projectors of the movement, declared.

G. O. P. BRANDED AS ALLIANCE OF CROOKS

ever weak or feeble, should publicly preach again, in highway and byways, the homely virtues of the republic.

The republican party is dominated by the unholy alliance between crooked big business and crooked politics. This alliance must be smashed and the party revitalized and regenerated. The nation must be purged of those in power who divide their allegiance with special or corrupt interests. The former is essential if the republican party is to survive; the latter necessary for the preservation of our cherished institutions.

"In my humble way, I have been trying to do just this, and I shall continue trying to do it. I am neither discouraged nor despairing."

"Good men and good women everywhere, who seek neither office nor gain, who have no other thought than their country's welfare, have splendidly responded."

The Fight Goes On.

"Every financial power, every organization, every official, every legislator and federal money without stint, the press, with few exceptions, avenue of publicity, the grand array of political crooks and crooked big business with all its ramifications, every individual with a streak of yellow and every timid fellow who expects political power or preferment have been on the other side."

"That I have received as many votes as I have, without organization or funds or aid at all, is a tribute to our citizenship and is a matter of congratulation and a spur to redoubled effort for decency in politics and government."

The fight goes on until it shall be won, until the republic, as it has come again a party of its rank and file, and until government is again responsive to the people alone."

JOHNSON CAMPAIGN

NEW TRIAL PLEA FOR MRS. BYFIELD SET FOR SATURDAY

Deatur, Ga., April 10.—(Special.) Motion for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Clyde Byfield in her suit for $100,000 against Walter T. Candler, local capitalist, will be heard by Judge John Hutchison, of the Stone Mountain circuit, Saturday.

Mrs. Byfield alleges injuries as the result of an attack which she claims Candler made on her in her stateroom on the steamship Borealis en route to France in the summer of 1922. She was denied damages by a jury in the DeKalb county court here March 10.

At the same time a plea will be heard in the case of Rufus Bird, convicted wife slayer.

Bird was sentenced to hang April 25 for the slaying of his wife at the home of their daughter at Deatur. His lawyers pleaded insanity for the man, and he was not allowed to go on the stand in his own behalf. It was intimated by his attorneys that exceptions would be taken to Judge Hutchison's instructions to the jury.

SENATE TO AGREE ON BONUS MEASURE

Washington, April 10.—Consideration of the soldier bonus bill was put over today by the senate finance committee to Saturday the evening when Chairman Smoot predicted agreement would be reached on a bill similar to that passed by the house.

Deamonts of the committee asked time today to give further study to the bill which the republicans have approved. It is expected democrats will propose a full cash payment option in the measure which now carries provisions for cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50 in adjusted service compensation and $200 in endorsement life insurance policies to others.

Chairman Smoot made public today revised estimates as to the cost of the bill passed by the house on the basis of new figures submitted by the army, navy and marine corps, of the number entitled to benefits.

H. P. Brown, veteran bureau secretary, estimated the insurance policies would cost the government $2,202,667,420, spread over a period of 20 years. Life of these policies and Joseph M. Cox, government actuary, estimated the cost at $3,631,047,691. Herbert Hess, public accountant employed by the American Legion, estimated the bill would cost $2,382,760,000.

No explanation was offered by Mr. Smoot for the differences in estimates, pending written reports to be submitted by the actuary, although he announced favor for the estimates given by Mr. Cox.

The estimates did not take into account administration costs of the bill which Mr. Cox has estimated at $172,000,000 or the cash payments to veterans not entitled to more than $50, estimated at $15,000,000.

No consideration was given by any of the actuary as to whether the government would have to pay the costs of interest on loans which would be necessary to finance the payments. Mr. Cox has insisted such interests will have to be figured.

WILLARD APPROVES PRESENT RAIL ACT

Washington, April 10.—A more complete trial of the transportation act in its present form was urged before the senate interstate commerce committee today by Daniel E. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company.

"I believe such a course," he said, "is not only in the best interests of the carriers, but even more so in the best interests of the country as well."

Mr. Willard appeared to oppose proposals for the repeal of section 15-A of the act, the so-called rate-making sections. He declared the rule laid down for rate making was in no sense new or of a revolutionary character, and that it was neither more nor less in principle than the rule of procedure which the interstate commerce commission itself "had found necessary and adopted under conditions of actual experience."

Replying to an inquiry as to why the railroad was opposed to repeal of the section which apparently is of no value to it, Mr. Willard said the section was intended to inspire confidence in the fairness and stability of the scheme of railroad regulation.

$27,391,146 LOST ON RECLAMATION PROGRAM IN WEST

Washington, April 10.—A comprehensive overhauling of the government's reclamation program, involving the charging off as a total loss of $27,391,146 of the approximately $150,000,000 invested and providing measures of relief to thousands of farmers and protection of further federal expenditures on irrigation of the arid wastes of the west, is urged in a unanimous report submitted to Secretary Work today by the special advisory committee on reclamation.

The committee of experts, now disbanded, has been making a study of the reclamation problem for six months and its report was presented with the recommendation that it be used as a basis for prompt remedial legislation. Members of congress from many western states have made vigorous pleas for aid to the project, and it is probable that President Coolidge, to whom the report was submitted tonight, will have some recommendation to make to congress in the near future.

Declaring conditions are serious on many of the 28 projects located in 15 western states, with three already having failed, the committee states that of the $143,000,000 already spent in building irrigation works, $18,561,146 will never be recovered, with a probable loss on an additional $8,830,000, the whole representing losses in construction to supply water for lands to be of little or no return value.

LIVELY FIGHT STAGED ON FLOOR OF COMMONS

London, April 10.—Liamson Col. L. C. M. S. Amery, former first lord of the admiralty, and the Glasgow laborite, George Buchanan, went home with battered faces last night after a lively bout on the floor of the house of commons. Near midnight, just before the house adjourned, a fight of unemployed tenants was being discussed when Lieutenant Colonel Amery referred contemptuously to the laborites' arguments as "soh stuff."

James Marlon, of the Glasgow laborite delegation, shouted: "You dog," while Buchanan ejaculated: "Never mind that swine. He is only a little guttersnipe." The speaker rebuked the members for their remarks and the house almost immediately adjourned.

In a moment Amery and Buchanan were punching one another's face. Other laborites tried to reach the former minister, but their colleagues held them back and further violence was prevented by peacekeepers who persuaded the principals to leave.

It was the first personal encounter in the house for nearly a year.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN BY RAILROAD FREIGHT

Washington, April 10.—More railroad cars were loaded with revenue freight from January 1 to March 29 than during any corresponding period on record, according to reports filed today by the carriers with the car service division of the American Railway association.

The total for the thirteen weeks was 11,587,274 cars, an increase of 270,554 cars or 2.4 per cent over the corresponding period in 1923, which marked the previous record for this season of the year. Compared with the corresponding period in 1922 it was an increase of 17 per cent.

Loading of revenue freight for the week ended March 29 totaled 967,348 cars, a decrease of 1,103 cars from the preceding week. Compared with the corresponding week last year it was a decrease of 28,726.

SELEUTH SENTENCED TO 60-DAY TERM AS HEATON AIDE

Louisville, Ky., April 10.—Frank Cordell, Indianapolis private detective, charged with complicity in the kidnaping of William Gates, slayer of Richard Heaton, broker, in an alleged "torture house" here, was convicted in criminal court today and sentenced to 60 days in jail.

Cordell's defense was that he was unaware of Heaton's plan to kidnap Gates when he came here at Heaton's suggestion to obtain work as a truck driver. He testified he was led to believe Gates had removed merchandise from a warehouse owned by Heaton.

Gates testified at his trial that he shot Heaton, his erstwhile friend and former employer, after the latter had prepared to perform a mutilation operation upon him. Gates was acquitted.

Armstrong's Linoleum for Every Floor in the House

The Entrance Hall
A floor of Armstrong's Straight Linoleum with a border of Armstrong's Plain Black Linoleum

Floors of Color—Floors of Charm

IN any plan of decoration, floors simply refuse to be ignored. So when you start to decorate a room, you must begin with the floor. If you don't, you will end up with the floor on your hands—and no idea what to do about it.

Haven't you seen rooms where the yellow wood floors simply spoiled the color scheme? Here is where the new linoleum is so helpful. There are so many colors and designs to choose from, that you can build your color scheme, as you should, from the floor itself, and thus make sure that your room will be a harmonious unit—floor, walls, furnishings, and all!

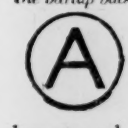

Linoleum permanently cemented in place is practically waterproof, and always smooth and tight.

Laying linoleum for permanency

A good inlaid linoleum, cemented in place over a lining of builders' deadening felt, makes a permanent floor. It never requires refinishing, and needs only an occasional waxing and polishing to keep it growing better and better looking with the passing years.

Not only does the floor of Armstrong's Linoleum solve a problem in home decoration. It lightens housekeeping. Any woman who has had any experience with a waxed and polished linoleum floor knows how easy it is to keep clean. Scrubbing is unnecessary. Dust and dirt brush right up. Floors of linoleum are quiet and restful to walk on. You place your rugs on linoleum, just as you do on any other floor.

Ask your merchant

Good furniture and department stores recommend Armstrong's Linoleum and will gladly show you the modern designs and colorings to harmonize with your walls, rugs, furniture, and draperies. Many of these stores make a specialty of good linoleum laying.

You may write to our Bureau of Interior Decoration for special advice, and receive a reply from an experienced decorator who will help you plan color schemes for an entire house or a particular room. This service is entirely free.

Write for free sample and booklet

Let us send you a sample of Armstrong's Linoleum and a copy of our 24-page booklet, "New Floors for Old." The booklet contains a score of colorplates of Armstrong's Linoleum, showing Jaspés, tile inlaid, marble tile and printed patterns, readily obtainable at most good stores; also information on laying linoleum and on how to care for your linoleum floors, together with names of merchants in your city who handle Armstrong's Linoleum.

HOW IS YOUR COLON TODAY?

Tell me how your colon is functioning and I will tell you how you feel, sleep and eat. If your colon is emptying itself freely, regularly and completely every day, you feel young, energetic and vigorous; sleep soundly and awake refreshed; eat with relish, enjoy your meals and digest thoroughly. If your colon is lazy and lacking in tone so that the poisonous matters are being retained and reabsorbed into your system, you feel nervous, irritable, weak, despondent and prematurely old.

Colon poisoning (auto-intoxication) is the most common cause of chronic diseases and premature degeneration of the vital organs. Millions suffer without realizing how easily the cause can be removed. Tell your druggist to send you a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It will quickly restore tone to the muscular walls of your colon. Your toxic condition will disappear and you will feel young, energetic and vigorous. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the cause of constipation. Your druggist is instructed to refund the price, one dollar, if you are not thoroughly satisfied with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

A Diamond Is The Gift Supreme

Material things are not the lasting things—as a general rule. Spiritual, intangible things do not die, but last forever.

But of all material things a diamond is perhaps the most valuable in reference to its long lasting quality. For whoever heard of a diamond that wore out? The years take not one bit of its brilliancy and beauty. Time seems to add to the diamond's gleam and certainly to its value.

With its priceless, peerless beauty, its invaluable, imperishable quality, it is small wonder that the diamond is the gift supreme.

Established 1887

Harry Stillwell Edwards, nationally known short story writer and newspaperman of Macon, Ga., was the originator of the idea for coining five million 50-cent pieces commemorating the centennial of work on the great Stone Mountain memorial.

The bill authorizing issuance of these coins has been passed by Congress and approved by President Coolidge. It was stated Thursday that Mr. Edwards first conceived the idea, and worked it out with the help of an Atlanta banker. Under the plan adopted, the government is to be paid for the entire issue as it comes from the mint and the coins are then to be sold at a premium, all over the country. The entire proceeds are to be used for carrying on the work on the great granite mountain. When the bill came before Congress, Mr. Edwards went to Washington and its numerous passages in both houses was largely attributed, it is said, to his work on its behalf.

Mr. Edwards is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, the author of many successful short stories, was a close friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt and was formerly postmaster at Macon. In his writings, his "Aeneas Africanus" is probably the best known, and it is considered by southern people as one of the best stories of the southern negro ever penned.

Traffic Accident Figures Correct, Asserts Deibert

"We do not desire to start an argument, but our figures on traffic accidents in Atlanta are absolutely correct," George Deibert, secretary of the Atlanta safety council, declared Thursday night in reply to a charge of Edward H. Innan, chairman of the city council police committee, that the safety council's figures, as published in The Constitution Tuesday morning, were "erroneous."

The safety council had announced 21 deaths and 384 injuries from traffic accidents during the first three months of this year. Mr. Innan had declared that police records, which he said were complete, showed only 10 deaths and 247 injuries during the same period.

"Our report was made from our own records," Mr. Deibert stated. "These records are based on information secured from the police department, the Atlanta newspapers and death certificates at the city health office. They are open to inspection by the public and we are prepared to back them up."

Mr. Deibert declined to comment on Mr. Innan's assertion that "every accident involving traffic must be reported to the police department, as most injuries and deaths resulting from these accidents."

More than 700 motorists have joined the "Safe Drivers' club" branch of the safety council since announcement of the casualty records Tuesday. The safety council secretary stated Thursday.

"We believe the people of Atlanta are going to cooperate with council and police to make a radical change in Atlanta's census rating for traffic accidents this year," he declared. Atlanta's rating is rated as third highest in the United States in 1923, government reports for number of casualties per thousand of population, exceeded only by Chicago, N. Y., and Los Angeles, Cal. Memphis, the fourth city in last year's report, has cut its traffic casualties 30 per cent this year through a diligent campaign through its safety council, which launched an active drive for traffic safety after announcement of its high rating for traffic accidents.

DRAMATIC CLUB OF GIRLS' HIGH TO PRESENT PLAY

The Senior Dramatic club of Girls' high school will present its annual play May 10, giving matinee and night performances. The play selected this year is "Mice and Men," a charming comedy of colonial days. The full cast will be announced later. The following principals have been chosen:

Mark Embury, Alice Gable; Peggy Evelyn Payne; Roger Goodlake, Margie Johnson; Captain Lovell, Anna Knight; Joanna Goodlake, Anne Choate; Sir Harry, Nell Walcott; Deborah, Sarah White; Peter, Adele Anderson; Kit Barringer, Lela Sims; Myron of Ophionia, Anna Mulcahy; Beadle, Louise Beall.

TWO RESIDENCES AND STORE LOOTED EARLY THURSDAY

Detectives Thursday were probing the robbery of two stores and a residence.

In one of the robberies—that of the Angier Avenue drug store, 142 Angier Avenue—the safe was opened and approximately $500 taken. Many diamonds enclosed within the safe were undisturbed.

The other business house, wholesale rug dealer, 100 Madison Avenue, just what was taken here had not been reported to the detectives late Thursday night.

A watch, a ring and some clothing were taken early Thursday from the residence of Mrs. E. C. West, 235 West Tenth street, by burglars, who worked so quietly that they did not disturb the slumber of the occupants.

Growth of Traffic Accidents Increases Insurance Demand

Widespread interest has been aroused among Atlantans and Georgians generally by announcement from the Atlanta Safety Council showing that deaths resulting from traffic accidents in this city for the first three months and seven days of 1924 have tripled as compared to figures for the first four months last year.

The figures, as announced by the secretary George Deibert, of the safety council, show that during January, February and March and the first seven days of April of 1924, a total of 21 people were killed and 384 injured in traffic accidents in Atlanta.

During the first four months of 1923, it was shown, only seven persons were killed and 214 injured.

Demand for Protection.
As the use of motor vehicles increases by leaps and bounds, it is declared that accidental deaths and injuries everywhere are steadily growing in number—and there is a corresponding growth of demand for protection against the distresses that follow in the wake of these disasters.

Judging from the great volume of business it has handled, The Atlanta Constitution has struck a popular note with its announcement of two great economic and efficient protective offers to the general reading public.

The first of these is the $1,000 travel and pedestrian accident insurance offer by which readers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution may secure protection for their loved ones to the extent of $1,000 against accidental deaths in specified accidents; payment of varying sums for injuries; and payment of $10 per week indemnity for total disability resulting from the accidents named.

The second offer is the $500 Group Reader Life Insurance service—the only life insurance offer made by any Atlanta newspaper. Under its terms, readers may be insured against death to the extent of $500, without medical examination, for the remarkably low charge of 15 or 20 cents per week, depending upon the risk involved by the insuring company.

Both Types Available.
Every sane, thoughtful head of a family—either man or woman—desires to provide for his loved ones against unforeseen emergencies. One or both of the two great protective opportunities will appeal to you—for if you subscribe both and are killed in a travel or pedestrian accident the amount your beneficiary will receive will be $1,500.

The regular life insurance is always paid on any kind of death, accidental or natural, unless it be in case of suicide.

If you are interested in these two offers, don't delay. A personal visit, a phone call or a note to the insurance department of The Constitution will bring you immediate and complete information on the subject.

CLEAN-UP TASKS ARE GIVEN TODAY

Clean clothes, clean streets, clean yards, clean houses, and clean every place for grand opera week, and forever afterwards, are each to be assigned to the special keeping of a different one of all the Atlanta civic organizations, when the general executive committee of the "Atlanta clean-up, paint-up, keep-up" campaign meets at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chamber of commerce.

Announcement of inauguration of the new clean-up plan was made by the executive officers of the campaign after an all-day session Thursday.

The officers, W. C. Davis, chairman; Mrs. T. T. Stevens, vice chairman; and Fred Colegate, Jr., secretary, were elected at the first meeting held in Mayor Walter A. Sims' office at city hall Tuesday.

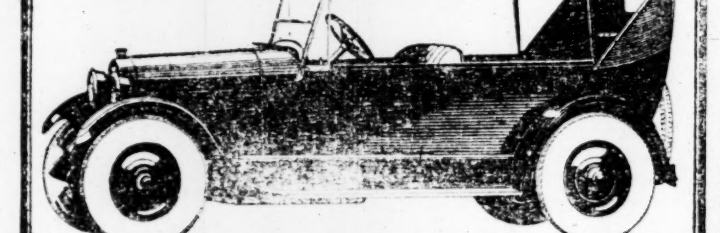

A tentative program for the permanent campaign to make Atlanta the world's cleanest city will be submitted to the executive committee, composed of one representative from each leading civic organization for adoption at today's meeting.

The program encompasses a division of work among all groups organized for the improvement and advancement of Atlanta, coordinated through the general "clean-up" committee, which is to continue permanently.

Active cooperation of Boy Scouts, parent-teacher associations, chamber of commerce, Kiwanis, Lions', Civitan, Rotary and Advertising clubs, retail store board, retail food dealers, Merchants' association, Peachtree Garden club, Buckhead and Peachtree road improvement clubs, D. A. R. and I. O. O. F. Anti-Tuberculosis association and several other organizations has already been assured the executive committee. Other organizations are to be enlisted before the opening of the drive, which the committee will recommend to be Monday, in order to give one full week's time to clean up the city before grand opera visitors begin flocking in.

Clean-up work among the negroes is to be conducted under leadership of J. M. Robinson and A. D. Shaw, who directed it during each of the last five campaigns. The negroes will launch their campaign this year with a pageant on Auburn avenue at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, arranged by the Young school.

General headquarters for the campaign have been opened at room 615, chamber of commerce, through courtesy of R. S. Barker, general secretary of the chamber and Fred Colegate, clean-up secretary, will be in the office throughout the duration of the active campaign.

CANDLER-BYFIELD VERDICT IS NEAR

A verdict is expected today in the suit by Walter T. Candler, Atlanta capitalist, to cancel a note for $20,500 given to Clyde K. Byfield in 1922 in Paris, following the defendant's accusation that Candler had attacked Mrs. Byfield on board the liner Berengaria enroute to France.

Judge John D. Humphries will charge the jury at 9 o'clock this morning, all the arguments of counsel in the case having been concluded Thursday. Attorneys Ben Conyers and John M. Slaton argued the case for Byfield, and were followed in the concluding argument by Reuben R. Arnold for Candler.

Argument of the case was opened Wednesday by Attorneys James A. Branch and Lowry Arnold for Candler. The plaintiff had the opening and concluding arguments.

Mr. Conyers, in a terrific exhortation of "the legality as well as the rightness of Byfield's cause," opened argument for the defendant by addressing a few remarks to the court.

"We are confronted, may it please the court, with two modes of settlement which Byfield well knew were open to him," Mr. Conyers said. "One was the route he took, based on a desire for peace and in accord with law; the other was the shotgun route, by Byfield's refusal to resort to violence. Candler is indebted only to Byfield."

Pursuing this line of argument, Mr. Conyers told the jury that Byfield was fully vindicated in the mode of settlement he accepted. "Because another man but a fool will shoot another man but a wife in Paris, France, where a man can not take human life under any pretext without being certain of the guiltiness."

Argues Legality of Case.
Former Governor Slaton, argued "the legality of the transaction and the helplessness of Byfield under the circumstances." He ridiculed the contention of Candler that he gave the check because he was "drunk" and "was afraid, and later the note for the same reason, declaring that "Candler had as many friends on the boat as Byfield, probably more, and if he was drunk when he gave the check, a mere scrap of paper he could stop payment on, he was sober when he gave his sealed note, a solemn contract to pay."

Mr. Arnold told the jury that under no view of the case "could you get away from the perfidy of Byfield, and we don't believe a Georgia jury is going to make a man pay a note utterly outlawed by every principle of law, decency and morality."

PEDDLER CONVICTED OF ATTACK ON GIRL

Emanuel Dempsey, 55, Center Hill wood peddler, was convicted of a statutory charge, with recommendation of a misdemeanor punishment, late Thursday in Judge E. D. Thomas' division of the superior court in connection with an alleged attack on a young girl on November 13, 1923.

The sentence carries a maximum of 12 months on the chain-gang, though it was not indicated what term the court would fix. Judge Thomas having deferred sentencing Dempsey until Friday. The defendant was represented by Attorney J. W. Thomas. Attorney J. H. Hudson represented the state.

A highbrow note says we need the night to rest. This will be news to the sheiks and sheiks and poker playing tired business men—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BATTLE TO SAVE BOY'S LIFE FAILS; DIES FROM BURNS

Four-month-old Arthur Hall died at Grady hospital early this morning from burns received March 15, when he was dropped on the live coals in an open grate by his mother, Mrs. A. B. Hall, of 432 West Tenth street, who had fainted while holding the baby in her arms.

When Mrs. Hall recovered consciousness, she ran out of the house and called a neighbor, Mrs. Will Portson, who finally rescued the tot. The father is in a hospital for world war disabled veterans in Virginia. The mother, who had maintained vigil over the baby for several weeks, was away from the hospital cot when the end came.

HOUSEKEEPER ADMITS SLAYING EMPLOYER

New York, April 10.—Mrs. Johanna Tell, housekeeper for Charles Blough, a farmer in Killingsworth, Conn., today confessed, according to the district attorney's office, that she shot and killed her employer on Tuesday when he had made improper advances to her. She then picked up an ax with which he had tried to defend himself and cut his body with it, the prosecutor said she told him. She buried the body Tuesday night in a sand pit near the house.

Mrs. Tell came to New York early yesterday and today told a relative what she had done. The relative advised her to notify the police and took her to the authorities.

BOYS' HIGH AND TECH HIGH TEAMS MEET IN PREP LEAGUE

Ancient Rivals Will Clash At Almand Park; University Squad Will Clash With Marist

PREP STANDING.

Tech High	W. L. P.	P.
Marist	2 0	1000
University	1 0	1000
Deatur	1 1	1000
Fulton	0 1	1000
Boys' High	0 1	1000
G. M. A.	0 2	1000

BY GORDON KEITH

Boys' High and Tech High are scheduled to meet this afternoon at Almand park. Fulton and Deatur are looked to play in Deatur and Marist, provided the weather permits, and three matting golf ball games should result. It will be a near tragedy if it is too wet to play these games, because most of the teams are already one game behind schedule, and it will be a difficult matter to find time to play off two postponed games with the little weather and out-of-town games intervening.

Tech High, Marist and University are looking the league with a perfect record. Deatur is secure in the lead and three position with a 200 average and Fulton, Boys' High and G. M. A. are trailing together in the cellar. University has only won one game, because the home team played one and Tech High and Marist with two victories a piece. Fulton is hardly as bad off for she has only dropped one game. The games today, if they are played, will in all likelihood cause considerable shifting of positions.

Boys' High vs. Tech High is enough to draw a crowd and make a ball game, even though Tech High has won two straight and Boys' High has dropped the same number. The game is to be played at Almand park, the training grounds of the Souths, and is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock. Ladies are to be admitted free. Tech High, by virtue of two wins, is now in a long-cherished hope of being able to time themselves in their workouts in the new field house. During the summer a clock with a superlative and a second hand larger than the minute and hour indicators will be installed for their own use in "clocking" themselves.

Hope Realized.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 10.—University of Michigan athletes, who are now in a long-cherished hope of being able to time themselves in their workouts in the new field house. During the summer a clock with a superlative and a second hand larger than the minute and hour indicators will be installed for their own use in "clocking" themselves.

BROOKHAVEN TEAM GETS EDWARDS

Memphis, Tenn., April 10.—"Moby" Craft, former New Orleans pitcher, was notified today that he had been selected as manager of the Brookhaven, Miss., club of the Cotton States league. Craft, who has been in Memphis for some days, planned to leave at once to take charge of the Brookhaven team.

Auburn Nine Off For Nashville

Auburn, Ala., April 10.—(Special.) The Auburn Tiger baseball team will leave the Plains late this afternoon for Nashville, where they will play a two-game series with the Vanderbilt Commodores Friday and Saturday.

The squad making the trip will include 12 men who will be under the management of Student Manager "Ricky" Mellen and Coach Cole. Those making the trip will include Davis, catcher; Sheridan, Marker, Siz and Knight, pitchers; Fancher, Allen, Caplin, Griffin and Stewart, infielders; and Harrison, Ansley, Self and Maury, outfielders.

The workouts this week have developed in changes in the playing positions in two or three instances. Maury was moved to first base and later to the outfield, while Fancher has been brought back from the outfield to his old place at first. Captain "Red" Griffin went back to his original post at the keystone bag after having worked at the initial job in the last series with Georgia Tech.

Auburn-Tech Meet Saturday

Auburn, Ala., April 10.—(Special.) The Auburn Tiger baseball team will open its first campus series of the season Friday afternoon when it meets the fast Trol Normal aggregation in the first of a two-game series to be played here this week-end.

Advance information on the Normalites indicate that they will oppose the Plainsmen Freshies here Friday afternoon at the University of Georgia grounds in their old place at first. They appear especially strong in the hurling department with "Goat" Walker at the helm of the pitching contingent.

The Auburn Freshies have played two series this season. The first with Marion Institute resulted in a game for each contestant. The second series was with the Georgia Tech rats in which the first scheduled encounter was called on account of rain and the Auburnites took the second by a 7 to 4 count.

Coach Newell will probably use four pitchers in the coming tilts, including "Lefty" Hughes, Austin, Grant and Bradley. Dyer, who has done most of the catching this far, will probably be called on to do the receiving.

Champ Tennis Teams Are Named

New York, April 10.—The men and women who will make up the American teams to play in various tennis championships abroad this summer will be named tentatively at a meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association Friday night at which Henry Stimson, the American delegate to the late international federation conference in Paris, will present his report and recommendations.

Owing to the intricacies of eligibility, some players who will be eligible for the competitions in England will not be available for the American Olympic team. Mrs. Molla Mallory is certain to make the Wightman cup team, which will play for the Anglo-American women's team championship at Wimbledon. But she is considered a Norwegian for Olympic purposes and will play under her native colors in the Olympics.

Mrs. George Wightman, probably will be captain of the Wightman cup team. Miss Helen Wills, national singles champion; Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Marion Jessup are likely to win the other places. The last four may be chosen as the women's Olympic team.

Although William T. Tilden, world champion, and Vincent Richards have signified their intention to place themselves in the professional class by writing pieces for the papers, the other men whose names are under consideration for the men's teams. Perhaps this means that an effort will be made to persuade these stars to reconsider.

Knight Wins North-South Title

Pinehurst, N. C., April 10.—Tightening up his game after being badly off in the morning round, Fred W. Knight, of Philadelphia, who has been playing great golf on the southern courses during the winter season, today added to his laurels the north and south amateur championship. He came from behind after being four down at the end of the morning round holes and going into the lead on the thirty-third hole, defeated B. P. Merriam, Waterbury, Conn., one up.

All the hazards of golfing played their part in today's match. Most of the bad luck in the morning round rested on Knight's shoulders while Merriam was dropping his putts from almost any angle and distance.

This afternoon Merriam was twice stymied, several times in the traps, once knocked over by a birdie, and to the cup and missed several comparatively easy putts.

The playing of both men in today's match was in decided contrast with that of yesterday when putts, birdies and eagles were frequent. Knight started out by winning the first three holes handily, taking the first when Merriam missed a two-foot putt for a half. Merriam hit into a trap on the second and made it in five by sinking a 20-foot putt while Knight sank an 18-footer for four and went two up. Knight went 3 up on the third when Merriam took three putts.

Both men made birdies on the fourth and on the fifth both hit into traps, but Merriam got out best and ran down a 20-foot putt for a five, while Knight overcame and took six. Knight was short on the sixth and Merriam went 1 down by sinking his fourth. Knight missed a short putt on the seventh and Merriam won with an eagle three, squaring the match.

Knight missed a three-foot putt on the eighth and Merriam went one up. The ninth, tenth and eleven were halved. Merriam went two up on the twelfth by sinking a 15-foot putt for a par four after Knight had sliced his drive badly. The thirteenth was halved in par four. Merriam sinking a 12-foot putt.

Knight sliced to the mounds on the 14th and Merriam went 15 feet from the pin with his third and sank the putt for a birdie four to Knight's par five. Knight laid Merriam's style on the fifteenth and drove into trouble on the sixteenth and both holes were halved. Merriam went four up on the seventeenth when Knight was trapped short of the green, oversteered and was 15 feet from the pin, on the third and then took two putts. The eighteenth was halved.

WASHINGTON AND BOSTON GAME IS RAINED OUT

Tech and Notre Dame Clash at Grant Field Today

Harry Allison May Take Hill Against South Bend Nine; Game Starts at 3:30

BY JOHN STATION.
Weather permitting, Tech will swing into its fourth series of the year this afternoon, with Notre Dame as the opposition. The appearance of Notre Dame here in baseball is another step towards establishing all year round relations with the Indiana school.

The history of athletics between Tech and Notre Dame dates back to the fall of 1922. That year, George Eastman and company came to Grant field and defeated Tech 14-3. Tech's only score, a drop kick by Brewster, came in the first period.

The fighting Irish did not have what a team had failed to do until Tech since 1919, namely defeat Tech on her own grounds. But, the great Eastman was too fast of foot, and the Notre Dame players were too intricate for the Tech eleven.

Tech Defeated Again.
Following up that first engagement, Tech journeyed to South Bend last fall, and was defeated 35-7, principally through the efforts of Lou Miller, and a wonderful array of fast backs.

The relationship between these two institutions is now most cordial. Tech welcomes the Notre Dame team into town for Notre Dame has proved itself a school built upon a many sports, football, basketball, and a wonderful array of fast backs.

Next year Tech and Notre Dame will probably meet in three of the major sports, football and basketball are assured, track is practically a certainty.

As is the caliber of the team which Notre Dame brings to Atlanta this year, no specific information can be obtained. Suffice it to say that Notre Dame ranked one, two, three in the west last year, and that they have not lost too many men by graduation.

While in Atlanta, the Irish will stay at the Georgia Terrace. They arrived on an early train this morning and went directly to their headquarters.

To Take Workout.
The Notre Dame team plans to take a mild workout on the field this morning, just to limber up after the long train ride.

Just who Coach Clay will use in the box this afternoon is a matter of conjecture. Indications are that he will pitch Harry Allison this afternoon, and Willie Collins Saturday afternoon, but the little coach is liable to adjust his battery to suit the conditions without a moment's notice.

It seems safe to say that Denike will play first this afternoon, and Shine Morgan second. Wyoff is very likely to succeed in throwing off the hands of the opposition. In prep school, Skidney played first base as a regular thing. So, it has not been very difficult for him to fall back into the swing again.

Shine got a home run in the Atlanta series, besides handling fifteen chances without a bobbie. That is playing ball for fair, and he is looking to for a continuation of that brilliant work during the Notre Dame series.

The game this afternoon will begin at 3:30. Admission 50 cents.

After two games with the Georgians, the team will meet Transylvania, Carson-Newman, Tennessee, Kentucky, Centre and St. Xavier.

NOTRE DAME TEAM LEAVES FOR GAME.
South Bend, April 10.—The Notre Dame university baseball squad, headed by Coach George Keenan, leaves today on a ten-day southern training trip, opening with Georgia Tech at Atlanta tomorrow.

After two games with the Georgians, the team will meet Transylvania, Carson-Newman, Tennessee, Kentucky, Centre and St. Xavier.

Chance To Take Charge of Sox
Chicago, April 10.—Several thousand fans will be present to get up early, will greet Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox, when he arrives here from California about 8 o'clock Friday morning.

Chance has been ill, and was unable to take charge of the Sox during their training trip. For a time, it looked as if he would not be with his team this season, but Chance fooled the doctors.

Shortly after his arrival here, Chance will hurry out to Merced hospital where President Comiskey of the Sox is recuperating from a recent operation. He will confer with his boss about the team's present plans.

Large Crowd Is Expected at Bout
Vienna, April 10.—The coming bout here between Georges Carpentier and Arthur Townley, British light-heavyweight, promises to be the biggest sporting event ever held in the Austrian capital.

The immense oval on the "hope-oval" from whose new stand 60,000 spectators can get a good view, found anywhere, sportsmen say.

Carpentier is due May 6 with his manager, Desamps, and after a preliminary welcome at Innsbruck, will be received by leading Austrian sportsmen. The police are making plans to handle the expected crowds at the railway terminal and have even suggested that the former world champion be taken to his hotel in an airplane.

GEORGIA AND GOTHAM FANS ANXIOUS HELFFRICH WILL GIVE THRILL

BY DELACEY ALLEN.
Athens, Ga., April 10.—(Special.)

The Georgia Bulldogs will open a two-game series with the Mercer Baptists at Athens Friday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., and if these games even partly measure up to the standard of those played in the past few years they will certainly be well worth the seeing.

From the quality of ball displayed so far by Coach Robinson's aggregation, Mercer evidently has one of her best teams yet to go out on the field, as they have lost only one game out of about 11 starts; whereas the Bulldogs have lost none out of three and appear to be extremely strong both defensively and offensively. Mercer will be without the services of Tige Stone, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, but his services will undoubtedly be missed; but the caliber of men who fill the other places seems to have been greatly improved, thereby offsetting this loss.

Coach White has not started yet upon whom he will depend to pitch these two games, but as matters stand now, Fred Sale will more than likely pitch Friday's game with Cliff Pantone and Andy Chambers both available for Saturday, the weather permitting.

The weekend will be one of joy and hilarity for the friends and alumni of the university, as the festivities which usually follow the spring holidays have been set for this time and many of the graduates and other visitors will be trekking their way to Athens for what is known here as "little baseball Friday morning."

The club will be open initiating the neophytes into the public domain of their respective orders; the social organizations will be given their dances, formal and otherwise; the glee club will play its annual performance for the home folks; and Uncle Sam, to top matters off, will send several military men of note to inspect the future Georgia soldiers in a grand review to be held Saturday morning, which the public is cordially invited.

Work on Stands.
Thousands of chairs, as green and fresh as the grass, lean forward against the walls of the field boxes, lying out in the sun and breeze and the painters hurry along the aisles, touching up the numbers on the seats with white paint for the Yanks and Giants.

Sunday, the hoarse begins all over again with the exhibition game between the old-time champions, the Yankees and the Giants.

With the aid of Jule Plavins, Manager R. M. Striplin, of Lakewood park, now promises to present a program of dastard automobile races to-morrow afternoon as the opening feature of the 1924 season.

While rain on Saturday night seriously interfered with the speed program, the heavy showers Thursday are proving beneficial to the track, aiding in the packing of the surface and bringing promise that there will be little or no dust. Tonight it is planned to cover the track with calcium chloride to preserve the moisture and keep the track wet. Mr. Striplin stated that continuous showers until 9 o'clock Saturday morning would not interfere with the speed program and the program could be run on schedule time.

Although the rain yesterday was being Luck Lakewood, the superintendent, put the oval in condition, it kept the speed stars and their mounts in the garages and prohibited workouts on the track. Dickow and Stone, however, tuned up their motors earlier in the week and are now being handicapped by the rain. Purvis, the Jacksonville flash, claims he must have a few hours on the track before the races start in order to loosen up his motor which he has thoroughly overhauled since his arrival in Atlanta.

R. M. Brown, of Birmingham, president of the Alabama state fair and member of the International Motor Contest association sanction board, reached Atlanta last night and will be one of the officials in charge of the meet. Local automobile and newspapermen will be in charge of the scoring and timing.

A six-event program has been prepared by Manager Striplin and members of the Southern Fair board, who officially closed the entries yesterday and classified the machines for the various competitions. Announcements also made that 100 points towards the world's dirt track championship would be awarded to the winners of the various events, making the events the first recognized in 1924 for the selection of a champion for this year.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
New York, April 10.—The motor lawn-mowers go puff-puffing across the outfield, snipping the tops off the spring shoots of grass, and the big steel rollers clank along the skinned zone of the inner acres at the Yankee stadium and the Polo grounds, packing down the clay so that the spikes of the players will bite and hold.

Painters dangle in swaying cradles before the high six boards in the distance, evolving huge portraits of curves and hats and cigarettes. Ed Barrow's big New Foundland pup, having chewed his rope and escaped from the Yankees' dugout, comes stumping into the sunlight and with a bellow like that of an officious cop, orders a big gray rat off the premises. The rat wants to know why Homer, in honor of Babe Ruth, presumably goes flopping after him through the green field which Phil Schenck, the ground keeper, is knocking into the crack around the new rubber plate with his fingers.

"Hey," Mr. Schenck inquires of all Manhattan and the Bronx with his own loud-speaker, "who let that mutt loose again?"

Guiding Babe Ruth, himself, and the despondent Dodgers of Brooklyn.

This is not the real opening of the season, of course, but it will be the first baseball decision of the year in New York and will satisfy a widespread eagerness to hear once more the first boom of a new white ball in a new yellow glove.

Tuesday is the real opening day when the Giants will resume their practice of abusing the Dodgers in games which figure in the averages. All winter long men have been patching, painting and altering things at these two great reservations, these safety zones in a big city in which a dollar-denied buys the right to rear up, shake a fist at a fellow athlete and yell, "Oh, you great big puke!" you couldn't hit a cripple with a taxicab."

The sod that was so badly worn in spots by the struggling cloaks of the football teams in the fall, has been patched and seeded and inlaid with new pieces from the hot houses.

Field Is Changed.
The Yankees' entire infield has been shovelled back 10 feet toward center field and the foul lines have thus been revised so that Ruth will have to drop his eight-foot homers fair into the bleachers this year, with no benefit from the angle of the grand stand which trapped and pocketed some of his shorter blows last summer.

There is a popular notion that the cry at this time of the year is "play ball." Like some other popular notions, this one is wrong. What the umpire really says and will say no later than 3 p. m. Sunday, is "Hi, men; let's go." But it all amounts to the same thing, winter's over.

BY WALTER CAMP.
New York, April 10.—Announcement that Helffrich of state is eligible for the Penn relays means that Penn will furnish additional thrills in what already has promised to be an exciting relay race.

Nate Carmell figures on Helffrich, Enck, who has been doing such brilliant running this winter, and Carter for three of his men. He claims to have a fourth man—possibly Moore or Barclay—who will match up with the other three.

With the crack Georgetown relay team and several other good ones entered, the two-mile relay will indeed be a great race, and there is every prospect that the present record of 7:45 4-5, held by Penn, will be lowered.

Another brilliant performer who will appear at the relays is Argue of Occidental, who will run in the quarter-mile as anchor man and also in the 220-yard international race, as well as competing in the 100-yard dash, the half-mile relay, and the broad jump. Argue is credited with a record of 9 4-5 in the 100-yard dash, and can do over 22 feet in the broad jump.

Now comes word from Spain that Sorrita De Alvarez, who recently defeated Miss Covell of England and Miss Elizabeth Ryan of the United States, will enter the Olympic law tennis tournament and oppose Mlle. Lenglen and Miss. Wills. The 18-year-old Spanish girl will make Suzanne Kohler to her laurels.

Going Out of Class.
Omaha, Neb., April 10.—Morris Schlaifer, Omaha welterweight boxer, will appear in the ring here April 21, to fight Dave Shade, Californian. Schlaifer has had trouble making the welter limit and was warned recently by boxing commissioners after sealing about 150 for fights here. He meets Wamie Smith, of Oklahoma, Friday in East Chicago.

Tampa, Fla., April 10.—Today was a day for champions and champions' downfalls in the first and second rounds of play of the annual Florida state amateur golf championship. Al C. Ulmer, Jacksonville, four times champion, after winning with ease his first round match with P. C. McNell of Orlando, went down to an ignominious defeat at the hands of the one-time champion, Gordon Gibbons, Palmetto, by a score of 8 and 6.

New York, April 10.—A 10-year-old boy, Max Friedlich, today testified against his father, Harry, a printer,

"The success we are meeting and the interest shown is wonderfully encouraging," said Mrs. Sanford Gay, president of the league.

"For a long period many people did not understand the purposes of the league and its great non-partisan character and this handicapped us in our work. From now on, it will undoubtedly be easier and it will be largely due to this membership campaign which has put the objects of the league clearly before the citizens of Atlanta."

TWO TAX PLANS BEFORE SENATE

Washington, April 10.—The new revenue bill was formally reported to the senate today, and along with it was presented a new democratic tax plan carrying an income tax schedule somewhat similar to the Longworth plan adopted by the house and turned down by the majority of the senate finance committee.

The democratic proposal, which its sponsor believes will have the support of the republican insurgent group, carries a maximum surtax rate of 40 per cent on incomes in excess of $500,000 as compared with the maximum of 25 per cent on incomes in excess of $100,000 in the finance committee bill.

Normal income tax rates proposed in the democratic plan are 2 per cent on incomes up to $4,000; 4 per cent on incomes between $4,000 and $8,000; and 6 per cent on incomes above $8,000. All heads of families, irrespective of the amount of their income, would be given the present exemption of $2,500. No other change in the exemptions is proposed.

Democratic Substitute.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, ranking democrat on the finance committee, presented the democratic substitute just after Chairman Smoot had brought in the majority report of the committee and had announced that he probably would call the bill up for consideration next Wednesday. It will be useless to consider it before then, he said, as senators would not have time to sufficiently inform themselves of its provisions.

The surtax rate under the democratic plan would begin at 1 per cent on $10,000 and would graduate up to the maximum. The rate on incomes of $100,000 would be 37 per cent as against 25 per cent in the Mellon plan, and 35 per cent in the house bill. The rate on incomes of $200,000 to $300,000 would be 38 per cent and on incomes between $300,000 and $500,000 the 39 per cent rate would apply.

In comparison with the senate and house surtax schedules the democratic plan would provide lower rates on the smaller incomes up to about $5,000. On incomes between that amount and $80,000 the tax would be about the same while on incomes over $80,000,

Senator Simmons predicted the schedule agreed to by the democratic members of the finance committee would be supported by all but two or three of the democrats in the senate.

G. O. P. IN FULTON BACKS COOLIDGE FOR PRESIDENCY

Candidacy of President Coolidge was unanimously endorsed, and his leadership lauded Thursday night at a meeting of republican voters of Fulton county in the Fulton county court house. The meeting, one of the largest republican sessions ever held in this county, was staged in answer to a call issued by the reorganized republican organization for a county convention to select delegates to the state convention, April 30.

Lindsay Hopkins was re-elected chairman for a two-year term. H. A. Allen was named vice chairman; J. Sam Slicer, treasurer, and U. L. Carmichael, secretary. The following were elected delegates and alternates to the state convention: Lindsay Hopkins, J. Sam Slicer, M. L. Covington, M. C. Brown, Nat N. Grainger, George R. Donovan, James Thompson, Walter Hopkins and Ray Smathers.

FINANCE SHEET WILL BE REVIEWED MONDAY

Review of the January finance sheet, in compliance with council's request that $150,000 be cut out of the water rate reduction, will be made by the finance committee of council in special session Monday afternoon, Chairman J. R. Bachman announced Thursday. Members of the committee declared that it is not certain that the reductions will be made. A reduction of $150,000 in water rate would mean also a reduction of $39,000 in school revenues, Mr. Bachman stated.

Four Tax Plans Compared

Washington, April 10.—The following table shows the total amount of tax, including both normal, and surtaxes which a married man with no dependents would have to pay under the various schedules:

Net Income	Present Law	Mellon Plan	House	Senate, Dem.
$3,000.00	$20.00	$11.25	$7.50	$7.50
4,000.00	60.00	33.75	22.50	22.50
5,000.00	100.00	56.25	37.50	37.50
10,000.00	320.00	167.50	107.50	107.50
20,000.00	1,720.00	1,237.50	1,105.00	1,107.50
30,000.00	3,520.00	2,637.50	2,515.00	2,517.50
50,000.00	6,640.00	4,637.50	4,190.00	4,137.50
80,000.00	12,640.00	8,437.50	7,440.00	7,377.50
100,000.00	20,140.00	12,937.50	11,315.00	11,217.50
200,000.00	56,640.00	30,837.50	24,890.00	24,617.50
500,000.00	294,640.00	143,837.50	119,190.00	119,017.50
1,000,000.00	556,640.00	288,837.50	212,690.00	212,617.50

$80,000 the democratic rates would demand more taxes.

The revision of the income bracket to which the rates would apply would make an entirely different average of tax payments all the way up. Senator Simmons in his plan has named the exact amount of tax which will be due on each income, simplifying the computation of the surtax.

As an example, on an income of $50,000 the democratic plan would call for a surtax of $3,540, plus a tax of 18 per cent on the amount of income in excess of $50,000, and not the exact amount of tax which will be due on each income, simplifying the computation of the surtax.

PEOPLE SETTLE PRIMARY FIGHTS. COURT JUDGE SAYS

Moultrie, Ga., April 10.—"Courts do not settle political quarrels growing out of primary elections. Such disagreements must be settled by people at the polls on election day."

Judge W. E. Thomas, of the southern circuit, said tonight in refusing to grant a mandamus sought by Frank Clark, of Crossland, who is contesting the nomination of L. O. Rogers as county school superintendent.

Clark instituted the court action with a view of forcing the democratic executive committee to put his name on the ticket in the general election next November as the party nominee. He claimed that he would have been the nominee if the local committee had not permitted "the voters of the Moultrie and Doerun districts to elect ballots in the primary in violation of the special act which forbids voters living in independent school districts from participation in the election of school superintendents."

Judge Thomas virtually held that the act cited did not apply to primary elections, saying "that point can only be raised before the courts after an election is held, and the question arises who in fact has been elected and is entitled to hold the office. But a primary such as was recently held does not solve anything, nor does it legally bind anybody."

Clark's action was taken after the democratic executive committee had voted to put his name on the ticket in the general election next November as the party nominee. CAT ON RAMPAGE ATTACKS TWO TOTS AND THEIR MOTHER

New York, April 10.—Maddened by the childish caprices of Edward and Daniel Ronald, 8 and 5 years old, respectively, a pet Maltese cat with which the children were playing Thursday spring upon them and scratched and bit them on the legs and arms, and then turned upon the boys' mother, clawing and biting her face as she tried to protect her babies.

Mrs. Ronald drove the cat into a closet with a floor mop. Three shots from a policeman's revolver were required to end the animal's life.

Madam Lea Lessi Munthe, a noted educator, who for the past 11 years has been at the head of one of the most progressive and modern schools in Savannah, will move her school to Atlanta in June.

The Atlanta Studio school, under Madam Munthe's supervision, which will not in any way conflict with other private schools in the city, will be brought here at the suggestion and request of men prominent in the educational, professional, and business world. One of the valuable purposes of this school is to correct the speech of a child, who through lack of coordination, power of expression, some physical difficulty, or else from a serious attack of scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria and other diseases, has been left with defective speech. Madam Munthe proves that it is only a matter of the development of that child through educational and modern methods.

Madam Munthe's experience in teaching, the study she gives her subjects, and her work in the training of children, have been approved and unanimously endorsed by prominent authorities. Each child is taken into the school after a careful examination by a physician. There are only two other schools to be compared with the Atlanta Studio school, one located in New York, while the other is in San Francisco. A great amount of pressure was brought to bear in order to persuade Madam Munthe to move here, but in this move Atlanta has gained an educational and civic asset, in the advantages offered through this private school. Another equally important and essential department in connection with the school will be where primary and intermediate grades, in preparation for the junior high school, Madam Munthe has found it quite difficult to decide upon leaving Savannah, where she has been highly regarded and esteemed. She feels that the field in Atlanta is broader, and that it is here she can accomplish greater results.

Prizes To Be Given At Civic Drive Dance at Club

Beautiful prizes will be given to early comers at the civic drive committee dance Friday night at the Atlanta Woman's club. The first three couples arriving nearest 8:30 o'clock will be presented with handsome prizes, one given by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, one by Mrs. P. C. Fabel, and the other by Mrs. Newton C. Wing.

Mrs. P. C. Fabel and Mrs. J. H. Lorenz will be the hostesses for the evening, and will be assisted by Mrs. Newton C. Wing and a group of ladies from the civic drive committee. The banquet hall will be elaborately decorated in peach and apple blossoms, and the favors and novelties will be symbolic of the Easter season. Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, Mrs. D. E. Tyler, and Mrs. C. W. Stoddard, will preside over the punch bowl.

Dancing will begin promptly at 8:30, and Mrs. Roger Wilson, Mrs. Arthur Cotton, and Mrs. A. O. Old-Bayer have many surprises in store for the guests, as most unique and unusual novelties will be introduced. In the various contests which will take place, Mrs. Roy Mather has offered four handsome prizes. The outstanding feature of the evening will be several solo dances by little Phyllis pared with the Atlanta Studio school, one located in New York, while the other is in San Francisco. A great amount of pressure was brought to bear in order to persuade Madam Munthe to move here, but in this move Atlanta has gained an educational and civic asset, in the advantages offered through this private school. She feels that the field in Atlanta is broader, and that it is here she can accomplish greater results.

Atlanta will recall her appearance in January at Eggleston hall before the Atlanta Drama league, when she gave a recital of "Kathleen Mavourneen," Florence's Irish comedy. She has studied in England, Austria, where she was born, and America. She possesses great dramatic ability. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Markham are among her closest and oldest friends, the former being a friend of her father's. Aside from being an educator she is an accomplished reader, and is personally, very charming.

Naedele, whose unusual talent has attracted much attention. "Home, Sweet Home" will be played at 11 o'clock in order to allow the Oglethorpe players to have the use of the hall.

Receiving at the door will be Mrs. Henry Manning and Mrs. Calvin Stanford, and those who attend are requested to bring their cards as these dances are by invitation only. Club members may bring as many as they desire on their club card and additional cards may be obtained by calling Mrs. Frank Naedele, Hemlock 4890.

Admission, $1 couple, and $1 stag. Due to the fact that Friday, April 18, is Good Friday, there will be no dance at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Date Announced For Easter Egg Hunt.

The Easter egg hunt which was to have been held at Springdale park in Inman Park, corner Edgewood and Waverly way, last Saturday, and was postponed on account of rain, will be given Saturday, April 12, at the same place at 3 o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

Circle No. 5 of the Inman Park M. E. Church Missionary society will be in charge. There will be ice cream for sale and other features. Everybody is invited.

The Honorable Mr. Bing

BY HORATIO LANKFORD KING

"Only, like the rest of your brand, you never take the trouble to weigh things in a scale—except money. Some of your ambitions have not been good for you. That may not sound grateful, coming from me, I, who have received so much from you, but it is the truth. Nor shall I ever be able to tell you how great has been my appreciation of your unexpected kindness. But, still, Mr. Sawyer, you have been a very—"

"What's got in your craw now?" exploded the guilty Sawyer. "Want to rub it in while you can? I needed you in my schemes, or thought I did, and never thought about doing you a kindness, or that you valued to me. And what money you got of me, Bing, you pretty well earned the same. No, it's now me who ought to be apologizing for the way I kicked you out like I did to please Lil. It was her fault. And, Bing, I want to ask for your assistance again."

"In your business? If so, I regret to say—"

"The business has gone to splinters, Bing, and I'm pulled' stakes and gettin' out. A pair of queens did it—out Bronson or his gang. An' shouldn't ever have come back to this burg, because I did get in bad here once—"

"You know how. But I thought money would put me back in good again. Say, how's that sis Bronson gettin' his 'rockedness' over?"

"I don't think Mr. Bronson is 'rocked' Mr. Sawyer."

"Well, anyway, didn't Bronson try to get something out of you concerning my affairs? I bet he did. I felt he would if he heard he'd played quits. Didn't he try to bribe you?"

"No," said Mr. Bing again with an expression of boredom. "Besides, I am through with all that."

"Right you are, maybe," agreed the satisfied Sawyer. "But if you are leavin' anything back, it's your sense of honor I guess. An' I know about that good turn you did that young widow lady who wore the veil. Nobody but you could have handled her that tip at the right time, Bing."

"What young widow lady?" stammered Mr. Bing. "Really—"

"Oh, I ain't thinkin' back of you a bit," hastened the magnanimous Sawyer, purring like a big cat. "Somebody had to pull the prize out of the grabbox—ten thousand dollars it was—and she did! But that isn't the joke. I don't think your disguised young widow lady in her stylish Persian veil needed the money."

"I can't believe that," said Mr. Bing, visibly disturbed and no longer pretending ignorance of the lady in question. "She was to the contrary, a young woman in very sore straits, though, come to think of it. She may have been rather neatly dressed."

"Did you see her face?" asked the vulgar Sawyer.

"No," confessed Mr. Bing, reddening. "Besides, it is an incident of the past. I have forgotten."

"Wasn't a private friend of yours, then?"

"Private friend? Certainly not. She was no acquaintance of mine at all—that I can remember. I never saw her before, and perhaps will never see her again. Moved by no personal interest, Mr. Sawyer, my desire was only to help a needy young woman, one who wasn't financial distress."

"Honest, not your sweetie, then?"

"Come, my dear fellow. This is preposterous. Is that all you, a sick man, wished to talk to me about? I have no time for levity, and I have told you all I know about the lady," returned Mr. Bing, the red in his face turned to two angry spots up near the temples.

Not heeding the warning, the vulgar Sawyer went on:

"Oh, you, too, Bing? Who ever would have thought it?"

"Thought what?"

"That you'd fall for a skirt—that old Eve stuff. An' I thought you a model of all the virtues. Wah-hoo!"

"But I never said I was in love," fumed Mr. Bing. "It was because she was in trouble. My sympathy went out to her, that is all."

"I suppose you mean because she asked sad and grieving about some other fellow. But that won't do, Bing. It isn't human nature. You are no other man would do a favor for a lady just because she was mourning. What you mean is she looked pretty good to you. You're some fan, Bing."

"You talk as if you knew her," said Mr. Bing, not, however, that he wanted any information from a man like Sawyer.

"Yes, an' I can tell you the color of her hair. You know how the old ed barn down on the farm looks, don't you? That's the color of her hair. An' a voice like a prima donna—a ten-cent record played on a wooden—"

"Stop!" came from Mr. Bing. "You mean it all in jest, of course. But such humor is out of place, Mr. Sawyer. And for a moment there was something in Mr. Bing's bearing that even the vulgar Sawyer found intimidating. "What else did you want to talk with me about, please?"

Brought back to a contemplation of his own sorrows, gloom showed again in Sawyer's ghastly face.

"Oh, I didn't know just what I wanted when I sent for you, but I guess it was desperation. An—don't let it shock you—but since yesterday I've had thoughts of murder in the first degree. If it hadn't been for this burg, I might have followed Lil on the first train and killed her in some hotel up there in New York—the kind of front-page stuff you read about in the papers. Pretty common of me, of course; but I'd have done it! I don't raise up on your kind of ideas, Bing, and nor was I ever respectable in that sense. Nor am I over the desire to kill Lil yet. It's still floating round loose in my system like I see Bronson. I'd go clean crooked again if I thought I could get even with that fellow, because it was Pharisies like him that turned Lil against me, suddenly thinking she's got a conscience—a social conscience, y'understand. 'Born in my blood to be a wolf, an' never forget an insult.' Shakes you, don't it? Well, I'm a red that was—redder than the reddest! So I hope you've got something in the way of a mental medicine to cure me. That's what I hope, Bing—honest!"

"My dear fellow," began Mr. Bing to pour his aversion. "I—"

"Say something," snarled the man with all you Pharisies. Think it's an insult! You're wastin' your time botherin' with fellows like me, don't you?"

"But would you quit being what you are, Mr. Sawyer?"

"Know what you are, Bing?"

"No—what am I?"

"You could have been a great doctor."

"Thanks. But, really—"

"Yes, a great doctor of moral diseases, complaints of broken down financiers like me. The world's full of them kind of patients now. You could be like a missioner to his majesty, y'understand. Think I want to take you on as my doctor, Bing—yeh, that's it. You can't refuse because it would be injurious if you did. You have got to stick to me until I get over this awful murder ailment. Don't say you won't because I've got to be retained in my acts. I might get myself in the penitentiary if you don't agree to help me. And seeing a look of sympathetic horror in Mr. Bing's eyes, Sawyer knew he had won."

CHAPTER IV.

Sawyer more than won when he went on to say they might do a lot of traveling. Mr. Bing had always wanted to travel, see the world and get it easy. But to satisfy this elegant craving one of course had to have money, and Mr. Bing did not have any money. Sawyer, however, did. But only if it could have been just him and the Lady of the Veil! He thrilled at the thought: the Lady of the Veil, his wife—his bride! What a honeymoon it would have been—the Adverser of Two Heirs, drifting together, seeing the world together. The Holy Land, Medieval Europe, Paris, a drive through the Bois de Boulogne, ancient cathedrals, art galleries and museums. Enchanted Spain! Land of the lyric flowers, brown, odoriferous, the orange groves and velvet shadows; the cigarette girls, flower vendors, types of the East. The Triana—had read of it, y'under, huzzah, despised because it took loads of money. The wine of the Malaga, fortune-tellers, grandees in silks, spurs, Castille, the Alhambra, Madrid, the Goya, the Rivera, Italy—Rome! Too good to be true—travel!

Sawyer would not be pleasant company, but Mr. Bing, bored at him distastefully, knowing he would need the offer. For, too, he had always pined for a sea trip, with the feel of the open ocean on his face, and feeling as if he were somebody—the somebody he ought to be, was! Sawyer also knew that Mr. Bing would accept. "You'll be a good Samaritan, won't you, Bing?"

Mr. Bing still hesitated only for decency's sake. Sawyer was canaille. "But why call me Good Samaritan? The title is hardly earned."

"Your conscientious objections are too refined," said the wily Sawyer. "I shouldn't be so modest, Bing."

Mr. Bing endured the cheap flattery only after an effort, regarding the other with his old unshaken reserve. "Perhaps I do have conscientious objections," he agreed. "But up until now I have an idea, a very uncomfortable one, I have allowed myself to be led like a lamb. But hereafter the lamb will do some of the leading—lead you, Mr. Sawyer."

"Oh, so far as you live in the reformation. That's what I want you to be a proper restraining influence. And that thousand dollars per month goes on, me paying all expenses."

Mr. Bing caught at it like a drowning man, though he did not want Sawyer to think that he was anxious. "But how could anybody reform you, Mr. Sawyer?"

"You frozen I ain't worth saving?"

"No; not that. A man like you isn't easily saved, that's all. I would not care to assume such a huge responsibility."

"But, Bing, it won't be a responsibility. I wouldn't ask that of any man. An' because I wouldn't hold you to any responsibility though you went along as my moral guide, you'd be a plain hypocrite and very un-Christian to desert me when I am liable to commit murder. The only responsibility I ask of you is that you don't let me kill Lil. You could try, too, to keep me out of the papers—and the penitentiary. I've always had a strange premonition I'd land there some time. So, you couldn't have a higher calling in this life than be my moral guide."

"Unless," agreed Mr. Bing sardonically, "they made me your hangman."

"You don't mean that, do you?"

"No; perhaps not exactly. But you provoke it, Mr. Sawyer. And I think my association with you has left me somewhat hard-boiled, too. It's a complicated mess, but I cannot seem to have the cruelty to pull out and leave you stranded. You will I say I will stick to you if you get very wild and unmanageable. Nor will I run around with you after 10 o'clock at night—that's agreed, isn't it? Also, he went on sternly, "I demand a certain amount of solitude and privacy. Nor will I get up earlier than 7 in the mornings. In hotels I will want a room of my own. And I will ask you to lay aside those abominable cigarettes. You can smoke pipes and cigars."

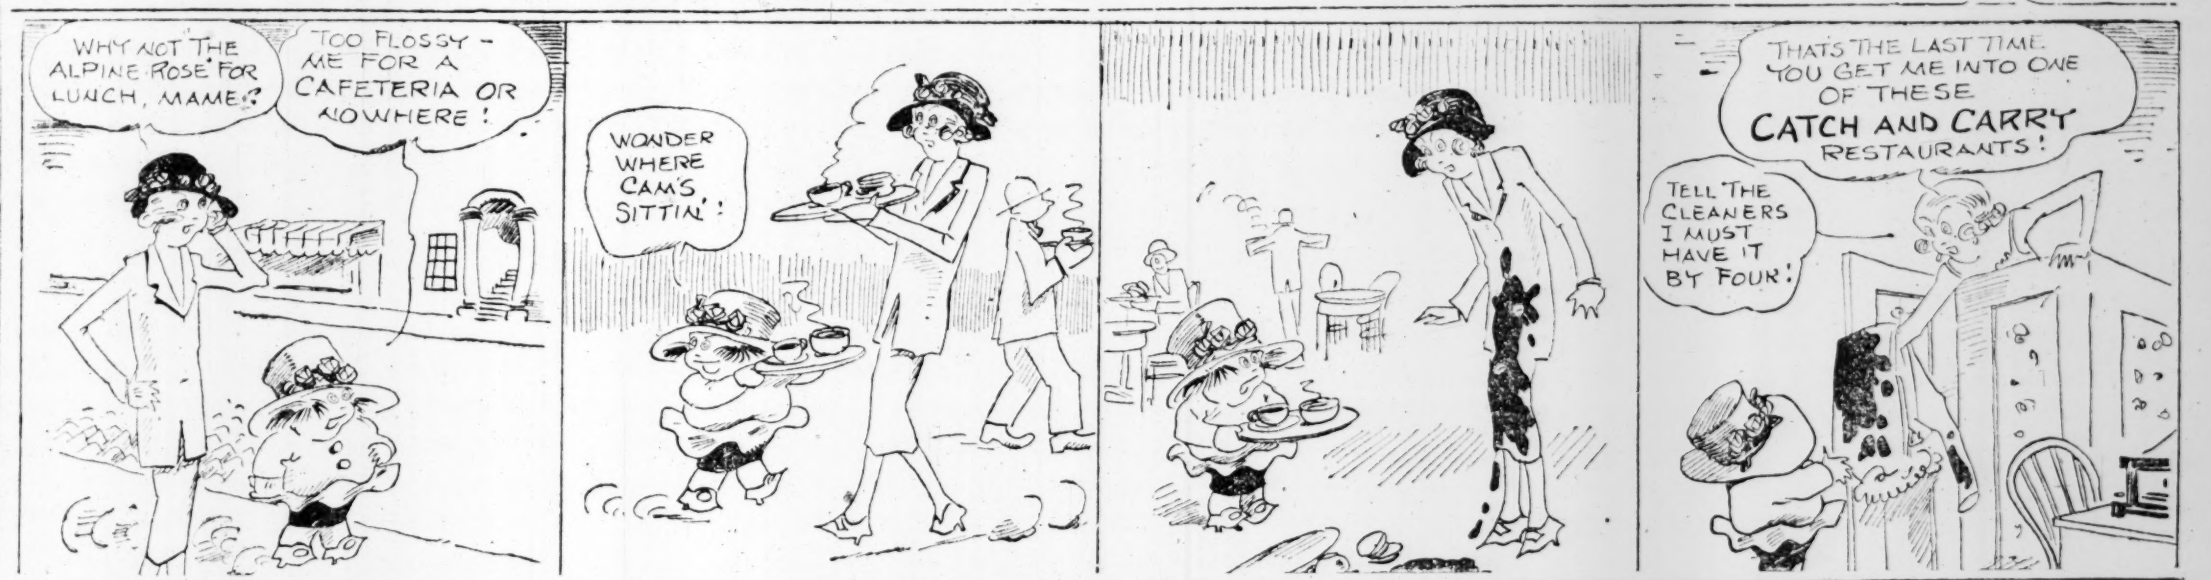

"All right," agreed Sawyer with a hidden, almost fiendish grin. "It seems we ain't even started as acquaintances yet, don't it?"

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum. Chl a is essential for the light-dependent reactions of photosynthesis, where it converts light energy into chemical energy in the form of ATP and NADPH.
